CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Deferred Adjudications

Art. 42.12, Sec. 3d., Adult Probation, Parole and Mandatory Supervision Law, and Art. 42.13, Sec. 3d., Misdemeanor Adult Probation and Supervision Law, both provide:

(a) When in its opinion the best interest of society and the defendant will be served, the court may, after receiving a plea of guilty or a plea of nolo contendere, hearing the evidence, and finding that it substantiates the defendant's guilt, defer further proceedings without entering an adjudication of guilt and place the defendant on probation on reasonable terms and conditions as the court may require and for a period as the court may subscribe not to exceed the maximum period of imprisonment prescribed for the offense for which defendant is charged. (Art. 42.12, specifies a 10 year maximum). However, upon written motion of the defendant requesting final adjudication filed within 30 days after entering such plea and the deferment of adjudication, the court shall proceed to final adjudication as in all other cases.

(b) On violation of a condition of probation imposed under Subsection (a) of this section, the defendant may be arrested and detained as provided in Section 8 of this article. The defendant is entitled to a hearing limited to a determination by the court of whether it proceeds with an adjudication of guilt on the original charge. No appeal may be taken from this determination. After an adjudication of guilt, all proceedings, including assessment of punishment, pronouncement of sentence, granting of probation, and defendant's appeal continue as if the adjudication of guilt had not been deferred.

(c) On expiration of a probationary period imposed under Subsection (a) of this section, if the court has not proceeded to adjudication of guilt, the court shall dismiss the proceedings against the defendant and discharge the defendant. The court may dismiss the proceedings and discharge the defendant prior to the expiration of the term of probation if in its opinion the best interest of society and the defendant will be served. A dismissal and discharge under this section may not be deemed a conviction for the purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law for conviction of an offense, except that upon conviction of a subsequent offense, the fact that the defendant had previously received probation shall be admissible before the court or jury to be considered on the issue of penalty.

While the granting of a deferred adjudication requires both time and resources on the part of the courts, the law specifically prohibits the entering of any final judgment (disposition) except as provided under Sec. 3d(b) and (c) respectively.

In addition to the 334,712 criminal cases finally disposed of by county-level courts in Texas in 1982, in 53,035 cases the accused was placed on deferred adjudication. During this same period of time, 44,601 deferred cases were dismissed after the probationary period was completed. For many purposes, the cases in which deferred adjudication was granted may be considered disposed, even though those cases remain on the docket and thus inflate the number of cases pending at the end of the year.

COUNTY-LEVEL COURTS

Explanation of Case Categories

CRIMINAL DOCKET

A criminal case is defined as one defendant per information. For example, if an information names more than one defendant, there is more than one case: three defendants named in one information equals three cases. If the same defendant receives more than one information, even if for the same criminal episode, there is more than one case: the same person named in four informations equals four cases.

Finally, if an information contains more than one county (Article 21.24, C.C.P.) only one case per person named in the information is reported. The case is reported under the classification for the most serious offense alleged.

The case-type categories are:

1. D.W.I. OR D.U.I.D. An offense under Article 6701Z-1, V.T.C.S. (Driving While Intoxicated) or Article 6701d, Section 50, V.T.C.S. (Driving Under the Influence of Drugs).

2. THEFT OR WORTHLESS CHECKS. An offense under Penal Code Section 31.03 (Theft) or Section 31.04 (Theft of Service) or any offense of theft or theft of service if the defendant obtained property or secured performance of service by issuing or passing a check or similar sight order for the payment of money, when the issuer did not have sufficient funds in or on deposit with the bank or other drawer for the payment in full of the check or order as well as all other checks or orders then outstanding. (Section 31.06, P.C. is also often cited in the complaint.) If the complaint is originally brought in the county court (Class A or B Misdemeanor), it is reported on Line 2. If the case is an appeal from a Justice of the Peace or Municipal Court (Class C Misdemeanor), it is reported on Line 3. Also including in Line 3 is an appeal of a case brought under Penal Code Section 32.41--Issuance of Bad Check.

3. DRUG OFFENSES. An offense under the Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, V.T.C.S.) or the Dangerous Drug act (Article 4476-14).

4. ASSAULT. An offense under Penal Code 22.01 (Assault) or 22.05 (Reckless Conduct).

5. TRAFFIC. Violations of the provisions of Article 6701d, V.T.C.S. (Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways) and related statutes, except D.W.I. (Article 6701Z-1) and D.U.I.D. (Article 6701d, Section 50).

6. OTHER CRIMINAL. An offense not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories.

CIVIL DOCKET

A civil case, as opposed to a criminal case, is not dependent on the number of persons involved in a suit. Each separate suit normally commenced by the filing of the plaintiff's original petition, defines an individual civil case.

The case-type categories are:

1. AUTOMOBILE PERSONAL INJURY DAMAGES. All cases for damages associated in any way with a motor vehicle (automobile, truck, motorcycle, etc), with or without accompanying personal injury. Examples include personal injury, property damage, and wrongful death cases. Any type of driver's license suspension case, however, is not to be included in this category.

2. OTHER PERSONAL INJURY/DAMAGES. Cases for personal injury or damages not arising out of an event involving a motor vehicle. Examples include "slip-and-fall" cases.

3. TAX. Suits brought by governmental taxing entities for the collection of taxes.

4. SUITS OF DEBT. Suits based on enforcing the terms of a certain and express agreement, usually for the purpose of recovering a specific sum of money.

5. DIVORCE. (Applicable only for some County Courts at Law.) Suits brought by a party to a marriage to dissolve that marriage pursuant to Family Code Chapter 3. (Annulments are not reported here, but under Other Civil.)

6. OTHER CIVIL. All civil cases not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories are included in this category.

JUVENILE DOCKET

Juvenile cases are based upon petitions for adjudication of a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) as governed by Title 3 of the Texas Family Code.

PROBATE DOCKET

The number of probate cases, of all types, including mental health proceedings.

TO THE GOVERNOR, MEMBERS OF THE 68TH LEGISLATURE, AND THE CITIZENS OF TEXAS:

I am pleased to submit the 55th Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council. This report summarizes the activities and operations of more than 2,500 courts in the State of Texas for the calendar year 1983.

The year was one of significant accomplishments for the Texas Judicial System. The critical backlog of criminal cases on appeal two years ago has been virtually eliminated. The rules of procedure and evidence were streamlined in several areas. Automated equipment and increased professional staffs for the intermediate appellate courts have significantly reduced the time required for disposal of appeals. Other improvements, too numerous to be detailed here, were instituted. Some of these matters had been under study and recommended by the Texas Judicial Council for decades. Others were instituted as a response to recent developments.

At the request of Chief Justice Jack Pope, the Texas Judicial Council is developing recommendations to prepare the Texas Judiciary for the twenty-first century.

While we cannot predict the future, it is within the realm of reality to prepare for it. While the future lies only within the minds of people, if we plan for a bright, hopeful tomorrow, that will become a reality. Some of the goals and plans formulated by other states are in glittering generalities. The Council is addressing the needs of the Texas Judiciary in more specific terms. Any plans for the future must include the following goals:

(1) The Judiciary should be independent from reliance on any financial sources except for funding by the State of Texas.
(2) The judges of Texas should be relieved of non-judicial functions so that they can devote full-time to judging.
(3) Technological resources should be fully employed by the judiciary for efficiency in the administration of justice.
(4) Uniformity should be achieved in the compensation and benefits for state judges serving on the same level of courts.
(5) The jurisdiction of courts on the same level should be uniform throughout the State of Texas.
(6) The judiciary should be recognized as a branch of government co-equal with the other two branches of government.

It is my sincere hope that these goals and the information contained in this report will be helpful in channeling the efforts of the State to meet the needs of society by providing for a more just, effective and efficient system of justice for all of our citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

Ben Z. Grant

REPORT ON THE TEXAS JUDICIARY

By Chief Justice Jack Pope

1983 was a year during which Governor Mark White, the Texas Legislature through the leadership of Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby and Speaker Gib Lewis, as well as the members of the judiciary focused upon the needs of the Texas court system. The Governor's two-day Conference on the Judiciary and the Legislative Select Committee on the Judiciary, chaired by Senator Ray Farabee, have afforded welcome opportunities for discussions about the Texas Judiciary. These are some of the more significant steps toward improvement since the publication of the last Annual Report.

1. Governor Mark White conducted the First Governor's Conference on the Judiciary on December 9-10, 1983. The subjects addressed included (1) criminal justice policy concerning alternatives to incarceration, sentencing uniformity, and uniformity in criminal and civil appellate rules; (2) effective use of judicial manpower by equalization of dockets, effective use of retired and active judges, uniformity of local rules, and the use of masters and referees; (3) judicial structuring; (4) judicial budgetary reform; (5) judicial education; and (6) technology.
2. Lieutenant Governor Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis, and Governor White on September 7, 1983, appointed members of the Senate, the House of Representatives, the judiciary, and the public to serve on the Select Committee on the Judiciary and its Advisory Committee. In preparation for the 69th Legislature, the several subcommittees are addressing (1) service delivery; (2) service access; (3) jurisdiction; (4) selection and tenure of judges; and (5) the criminal law. The Select Committee is also studying negotiation, arbitration, and mediation as alternate means to resolve disputes. Senator Bob Glasgow is chairing the subcommittee which is striving to harmonize the criminal and civil rules of appellate procedure and rules of evidence. Representative Bob Bush is chairing a subcommittee that is studying the needs for court coordinating staff.
3. In September 1983, acting under article 2328b, I announced the appointment of the members of the Judicial Budget Board, naming Justice Robert M. Campbell as Chairman. The purpose of the Board is to unify the goals of all Texas judges and to afford a means for more effective communication by state trial and appellate judges at all levels. The Board is well along with its work and is focusing upon the needs, long neglected, of the trial judges.
4. The Supreme Court on October 14, 1983, named a Supreme Court Education Committee. Its function is to study and recommend guidelines for effecting the mandatory judicial education authorized by the 68th Legislature.
5. On July 18, 1983, the Supreme Court ordered a referendum for the repeal of the outmoded disciplinary rules that had been in effect since 1941 and the adoption of article X, Discipline and Suspension of Members, of the State Bar Rules. The lawyers of Texas acted professionally and decisively by adopting the new rules by a vote of 24,243 to 3,647. The Supreme Court has already promulgated the new disciplinary rules. The Supreme Court and the State Bar of Texas are intent on ridding the profession of those who act unethically.

6. The Council of Presiding Judges of the Administrative Judicial Districts, which is meeting regularly, has initiated a study of the proliferation of local rules that has created conflicts in practice among regions of the State.
7. The Council of Justices of the Courts of Appeals is also meeting regularly. Its study has resulted in an improved system for the equalization of dockets.
8. The Office of Court Administration has previously programmed the automated equipment that was installed in nine of the Courts of Appeals. A compatible system has been installed in two additional Courts of Appeals, the Supreme Court, and the Court of Criminal Appeals. This equipment will expedite the work of the courts and clerks and will provide reliable data about pendency.
9. Senate Bill 898 by the 68th Legislature, sponsored by Senator Kent Caperton and Representative Bob Bush, effective September 1, 1983, eliminated the wasteful venue practice that compelled two trials and more than six hundred unnecessary interlocutory appeals each year. This achieves, as Senator Caperton says, "the twin goals of simplified venue procedure and judicial economy." The Supreme Court promulgated new venue rules of procedure that became effective on April 1, 1984.
10. The Code of Evidence in civil cases, promulgated by the Supreme Court under its rule-making power, became effective on September 1, 1983.
11. Effective April 1, 1984, more than 200 Rules of Procedure for civil causes were amended, adopted or repealed. The Supreme Court's order of December 5, 1983, completed its general review of all of the rules.
12. The Office of Court Administration and Texas Judicial Council staff is publishing a judicial newsletter several times a year. This will make important judicial information available to all judges, clerks and court officials.

More of the appellate courts in Texas are keeping their dockets current than at any time in the past decade. The Court of Criminal Appeals has completed disposition of the appeals left pending when criminal jurisdiction was granted the Courts of Appeals, and is timely handling the new matters filed in that court. The Courts of Appeals disposed of the cases filed in those courts in an average of 9.7 months during 1983 and that time is becoming shorter. A case in the Supreme Court pends an average of only 58 days. On the average, our trial courts also are timely handling their dockets, although there is room for improvement in a few regions of the State. Sixty-one percent of the criminal cases in the district courts of the State were disposed of within four months of the date of filing and 68 percent of the civil cases were disposed of within one year.

LOOKING AHEAD

Chief Justice Arthur T. Vanderbilt, following seventeen years of labor to update New Jersey's obsolete judicial system, wrote in 1949, "... judicial reform is no sport for the short-winded..." It appears that the tone of the Texas judicial community is to confront our problems through better use of our present personnel and to seek tools and staff rather than more judges. One thing we now need to do is to set some standards.

1. We need to develop criteria for requests for additional judges.
2. National Time Standards for Case Processing were recently adopted by the Conference of State Court Administrators. Similar standards for civil cases would complement the statutory Speedy Trial Act. Important elements in starting and achieving a delay-reduction program are support personnel at the trial level, a shared recognition by the court community of the need to change the pace of litigation, and a resolve to achieve that change.
3. The Kansas Supreme Court has recently adopted 19 standards relating to jury use and management. The standards were patterned after the American Bar Association jury standards adopted in August 1983, and were adopted as guidelines to assist the district courts in their management of jury systems. Effective management of jury systems can save many taxpayer dollars and minimize inconvenience to our citizens who are called for jury service. We need to consider adopting our own standards.

The administrative work of our courts and particularly of the Supreme Court could not be accomplished without the untiring services performed on a daily basis by Judge Ray Judice and the staff at the Office of Court Administration. Research in wide-ranging areas of work and study have put many pressures upon the office. We acknowledge these services that often have been performed on weekends and many extra hours.

When one hundred lawyers in Texas start for the courthouse, ninty-eight of them head for the county courthouse and only two go toward the federal courthouse. The reason almost a million causes are filed each year in county and district courts is that the public has confidence in the system. It is the duty of the whole of government to see that equal justice is available to every citizen. That is a formidable task, but it, nevertheless, is the commitment of our state and nation.

COURT STRUCTURE OF TEXAS
Descriptive Outline
January 1, 1984

The appellate courts of Texas include a Supreme Court, a Court of Criminal Appeals, and 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals.

The state trial courts of general jurisdiction are the district courts. Additionally, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county, presided over by a county judge. To relieve the docket congestion of this single "constitutional" county court, the Legislature has established county courts at law and probate courts in populous counties.

The Constitution also provides for justice of the peace courts in each county. These justice courts also serve as small claims courts. The Legislature has established municipal courts in each incorporated city of the State.

DISTRICT COURTS

1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 364.

2. JURISDICTION: There are 364 separate district courts, identified by separate numbers, each having its own judge and geographical jurisdiction. The Legislature has created three additional courts, effective 9-1-84. In a number of areas, the geographical jurisdiction of two or more district courts is overlapping.

   District courts are trial courts of general subject-matter jurisdiction. They have original jurisdiction of all felony criminal prosecutions, suits for divorce, suits over title to land, election contests, all civil suits with an amount in controversy of at least $500, and all other cases where jurisdiction of the subject-matter of the case is not vested in some other court. County courts at law and "constitutional" county courts also exercise limited subject-matter jurisdiction over civil suits and thus to a limited extent, share jurisdiction with the district courts. Several statutes stipulate various maximum amounts in controversy over which the various county-level courts may exercise jurisdiction. To the extent that such "dollar amount" jurisdiction coincides with the district court, the two courts have concurrent jurisdiction. Such concurrent jurisdiction of the district and county-level courts begins with suits involving $500 and extends to the maximum amount stipulated by the applicable statute pertaining to the individual county-level court. Above such maximum jurisdictional amount of the county-level court, the district court exercises exclusive jurisdiction.

   The district courts hear contested matters involved in probate cases and have general supervisory control over commissioners courts. In addition, these courts have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by law or by the Constitution, and have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

   Most district courts exercise both criminal and civil jurisdiction, but in the metropolitan areas there is a tendency for the courts to specialize in either civil, criminal, or family law cases. In some instances , the courts that hear criminal cases exclusively are designated criminal district courts. A limited number of district courts also have the subject-matter jurisdiction normally exercised by county courts.

   Appeals from judgments of the district courts are to the Courts of Appeals, except those capital offense cases in which the death penalty has been assessed, which are appealed directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

3. SEATS: At the county seat of each county included in each respective geographical district.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: Partisan, district-wide elections. Vacancies between elections are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the Senate.
   c. Qualifications: Citizen of the United States and of Texas; resident of the district for two years; licensed to practice law in Texas and a practicing lawyer or judge for four years.
   d. Salaries paid by the State:
         Effective 9-1-83.........$52,900
         Effective 9-1-84.........$54,500

      Supplements authorized by statute may be paid by counties. Total salary must be $1,000 less than that received by associate justices of the Courts of Appeals of the supreme judicial district.
   e. Term: Four years.

"CONSTITUTIONAL" COUNTY COURTS

1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 254.

2. JURISDICTION:
   a. Legal jurisdiction: The Texas Constitution establishes one county court in each of the 254 counties of the State, but not all such courts exercise judicial functions. The county court has civil, criminal, original and appellate jurisdiction. It has concurrent legal authority with justice of the peace courts in civil cases when the contested amount exceeds $200 but is less than $1,000, and it has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in cases when the amount exceeds $500 but is less than $1,000. The county court also usually has general control over probate cases. In criminal cases, the county court has original jurisdiction over all misdemeanors when the fine to be imposed exceeds $200 or when a jail sentence may be imposed. Unless expressly provided by law, the county court does not have criminal jurisdiction in any county where a criminal district court exists.

   Decisions from the municipal and justice of the peace courts may be appealed to the county court, and the appeal takes the form of a completely new trial (trial de novo). Appeals from municipal courts of record are an exception, where the county court reviews only the written record from the trial. Original and appellate judgments of the county court may be appealed to the Court of Appeals.

   b. Geographical jurisdiction: County-wide.

3. SEATS: County seat of county of jurisdiction.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: County-wide, partisan election with vacancies between elections filled by county commissioners.
   c. Qualifications: "Shall be well-informed in the law of the State." (Law license unnecessary.)
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Four years.

   Note: The commissioners court is not a judicial entity; rather it is the governing body of the county. It is presided over by the constitutional county judge and includes four elected commissioners. Although it performs no judicial duties, the commissioners court can issue certain writs and contempt citations.

COUNTY COURTS AT LAW

1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 132.

2. JURISDICTION:
   a. Legal jurisdiction: Under the constitutional provision which authorizes the Legislature to establish such other courts as it may deem necessary and to prescribe the jurisdiction of such courts, the Legislature has established 132 statutory county courts at law in 53 counties, primarily in metrpolitan areas, to relieve the constitutional county judge of all or part of his judicial duties. Ten additional courts will become effective on 1-1-86, and two more on 1-1-88, or earlier if approved by the commissioners courts of the respective counties.

   The legal jurisdiction of the special county courts varies considerably according to the statute under which they are created. Some of these courts are intended to exercise subject-matter jurisdiction in only limited fields, such as civil, criminal, probate or appellate (from justice courts or municipal courts). The concurrent civil jurisdiction of these statutory courts with the district court is higher than constitutional county courts.

   b. Geographical jurisdiction: County-wide.

3. SEATS: County seat of county of jurisdiction.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: County-wide, partisan election with vacancies between elections filed by county commissioners.
   c. Qualifications: Vary according to court-creation statute. Some include two to five years' experience as practicing attorney and requirement of residence in county.
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Four years.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

1. NUMBER OF ACTIVE COURTS: 949.

2. JURISDICTION: As amended in November 1983, the Texas Constitution provides that each county is to be divided (depending upon the population) into at least one, and not more than eight justice precincts, in each of which shall be elected one justice of the peace, provided that if the precinct includes a city of 18,000 or more inhabitants, two justices of the peace shall be elected from such precinct.

   Justice of the peace courts have original jurisdiction in criminal cases when punishment is by fine only, not to exceed $200. They have exclusive jurisdiction over civil cases where the amount in controversy is $200 or less; concurrent jurisdiction with county courts when the amount is more than $200 but less than $500; and concurrent jurisdiction with both the county and district courts when the amount is at least $500 but less than $1,000.

   A justice of the peace may issue warrants of search and arrest, conduct preliminary hearings, serve as ex officio notary public, perform marriages, and serve as coroner in counties where there is no provision for a medical examiner. The justice court also functions as a small claims court.

3. SEATS: Determined by county commissioners.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: Partisan elections by voters of respective precincts.
   c. Qualifications: No statutory provision.
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Four years. ←

MUNICIPAL COURTS

1. NUMBER OF ACTIVE COURTS: 828.

2. JURISDICTION: By a general statute, the Legislature has created a municipal court in each of the incorporated cities of the State. Presently, municipal courts are operating in approximately 828 cities and towns. Metropolitan cities usually have more than one municipal court.

   These courts do not have civil jurisdiction, but they have original and exclusive jurisdiction over violation of city ordinances. Ordinance violations involving fire safety, zoning, public health, and sanitation, are punishable by fines up to $1,000. Punishment for violation of other types of city ordinances is limited to fines only, not to exceed $200. The municipal courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in misdemeanor cases resulting from violations of state laws within the city limits (predominately traffic offenses) when punishment is limited to fines only of $200 or less. Municipal judges also serve as magistrates of the State.

   The municipal courts of El Paso, Houston, Longview, Lubbock, Marshall, Midland, Sweetwater, and Wichita Falls are courts of record with appeals on the record perfected in the municipal court. All other municipal courts are not courts of record, and appeals from them are by trial de novo in the county court, county court at law or district court.

3. SEATS: Determined by the city or town.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: Generally, one court per municipality and one judge per court. Statutes allow some city governing bodies to establish more than one court and/or more than one judge per court.
   b. Selection: Elected or appointed by the governing body of the city as provided by city charter or ordinance.
   c. Qualifications: Determined by the governing body of the city.
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the city. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Most are appointed for two-year terms and serve at the will of the governing body of the city.

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

Subject-Matter Jurisdiction of the Courts

January 1, 1984

INTRODUCTION

The basic structure of the present court system of Texas was established by an 1891 constitutional amendment. The amendment established the Supreme Court, which is the highest state appellate court for civil matters, and the Court of Criminal Appeals, which makes the final determination in criminal matters. There are now 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals which, since September 1, 1981, exercise intermediate appellate jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases. Prior to that date, these courts had jurisdiction in intermediate civil appellate cases only.

The state trial courts of general jurisdiction are the district courts, of which there are 364, as of January 1, 1984. (Ten of these courts are designated "Criminal District Courts," but, as will be noted later, only three are strictly limited to criminal cases on the district level.)

The geographical area served by each district court is established by the specific statute creating that court and does not necessarily correspond to the area served by any previously-established court. Each court has one judge. The State pays the base salary of each judge and some limited expenses of the judge.

In addition to these state courts, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county, presided over by the county judge. The county judge also serves as head of the county commissioners court, the governing body of the county. To relieve the docket of the single "constitutional" county court, the Legislature has established statutory county courts at law in 53 counties. As of January 1, 1984, there are 11 probate courts and 118 county courts at law. Fourteen additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature but were not in operation during 1983.

The Texas Constitution also provides for not less than one nor more than 16 justices of the peace in each county. Today there are approximately 949 justice of the peace courts statewide. Since 1953, these courts have also served as small claims courts.

By statute, the Legislature has created municipal courts in each incorporated city in the State. These courts have original jurisdiction over violations of municipal ordinances and concurrent criminal jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts over state law violations, limited to the geographical confines of the municipality. Municipal courts do not have civil jurisdiction.

Trials in the justice of the peace and municipal courts (with 8 exceptions) are not of record, and appeals therefrom are by trial de novo to the county court, except in certain counties as noted later where the appeal is to a county court at law or to a district court. When an appeal is by trial de novo, the case is tried again in the higher court, just as if the original trial had not occurred.

Jurisdiction of the various levels of courts is established both by constitutional provision and by statute. Statutory jurisdiction of the courts is established by general statutes providing jurisdiction for all courts on a particular level, as well as by the statute establishing the individual court. Thus, to determine the jurisdiction of any one particular court, recourse must be had first to the Constitution, second to the general statutes establishing jurisdiction for that level of court, third to the specific statute authorizing the establishment of the particular court in question, and fourth to statutes dealing with specific subject matters, such as the Family Code, which requires, for example, that judges who are lawyers hear appeals from actions by non-lawyer judges in juvenile cases.

The State provides full funding for the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, and the Court of Appeals located in Austin. It provides a base salary for the appellate and district judges of Texas. Certain counties supplement this base salary for district and Court of Appeals judges. Counties pay the costs of "constitutional" county courts, county courts at law, justice of the peace courts, and the operating costs of district courts except for the base salary of the judge. The cities finance the operation of municipal courts.

Senate Bill 179 of the 68th Legislature, the general appropriations bill, appropriated $56,972,225 for the operations of the judiciary--including the Judicial Retirement System--in fiscal year 1984. This represents 0.38 of one percent of the $15,187,570,942 total state budget for fiscal year 1984.

APPELLATE COURTS

The appellate courts of the Texas Judicial System are: (1) the Supreme Court, which is the highest state appellate court for civil and juvenile cases; (2) the Court of Criminal Appeals, which is the highest state appellate court for criminal cases; and (3) the 14 Courts of Appeals, which are the intermediate appellate courts for both civil and criminal appeals from the trial-level courts.

Appellate courts do not try cases, have jurors, or hear witnesses. Rather, they review actions and decisions of the lower courts on questions of law or allegations of procedural error. In carrying out this review, the appellate courts are usually restricted to the evidence and exhibits presented at the trial-court level.

The Supreme Court

The Supreme Court of Texas was first established by the Constitution of the Republic of Texas, which vested the judicial power of the Republic in "...one Supreme Court and such inferior courts as the Congress may establish." This Court was re-established by each successive constitution adopted throughout the course of Texas history. The various constitutions and amendments thereto, however, provided for different numbers of judges to sit on the Court and different methods for the selection of the judges. The Constitution of 1845 provided that the Supreme Court consist of a Chief Justice and two associate justices. The Constitution of 1866 provided for five justices, and the Constitution of 1869 reverted to a three-judge court; the Constitution of 1873 increased the number to five, and the Constitution of 1876 again reduced the membership to three. To aid the three justices in disposing of the ever increasing workload, the Legislature created two "Commissions of Appeals," each to consist of three judges appointed by the Supreme Court. This system, begun in 1920, continued until the adoption of the constitutional amendment of 1945 which abolished the two Commissions of Appeals and increased the number of justices on the Supreme Court to nine, the present number.

A constitutional amendment adopted in 1980 provides:

> The Supreme Court shall exercise the judicial power of the state except as otherwise provided in this Constitution. Its jurisdiction shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State and its determinations shall be final except in criminal law matters. Its appellate jurisdiction shall be final and shall extend to all cases except in criminal law matters and as otherwise provided in this Constitution or by law.

Thus, the Supreme Court of Texas has statewide final appellate jurisdiction in most civil and juvenile cases. In cases of slander, divorce, and certain other civil matters, the opinion of the Court of Appeals is usually final. The Supreme Court is empowered to make and enforce all necessary rules of civil practice and procedure for the judicial system and to promulgate rules of administration to provide for the efficient administration of justice in the State. The Court has original jurisdiction to issue writs and to conduct proceedings for the involuntary retirement or removal of all judges in the State.

In addition to its major responsibilities of hearing oral arguments, deciding cases appealed to it, and writing opinions, the Supreme Court has many administrative duties placed upon it by the Legislature to ensure the efficient administration of justice by the Texas judicial system. These duties include: (1) promulgating the Rules of Civil Procedure for the Texas judicial system (article 1731a); (2) promulgating rules of administration for the Texas judicial system (article 2328b); (3) equalizing the dockets between the 14 Courts of Appeals (article 1738); (4) promulgating the rules of procedure for the Commission on Judicial Conduct, and disciplining or removing judges from office (article V, section 1-a, Tex. Const.); (5) supervising the operations of the State Bar of Texas and the rules and regulations for the admission, discipline, supervision, and disbarment of lawyers, and approving the law schools of the State (articles 304, 306, 320a-1); (6) promulgating disciplinary rules for the Texas Prosecutor Council (article 332d); and (7) promulgating the rules for the operation of the Court Reporters Certification Board and the disciplinary rules enforced by this Board (article 2324b).

The Chief Justice has the responsibility to: (1) confer with the presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts to promote the prompt dispatch of judicial business (article 200a); (2) assign judges between administrative judicial districts (article 200a); (3) assign retired appellate justices to the various Courts of Appeals on a temporary basis (article 1812); and, (4) deliver a "State of the Judiciary" message at the commencement of each regular session of the Legislature (article 5429h).

The Supreme Court is composed of one Chief Justice and eight justices, who are elected in partisan elections on a state-wide basis for six-year terms of office. Vacancies between elections are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the State Senate, until the next general election. To be eligible to serve as a justice of this Court, a person must be licensed to practice law in this State, be a citizen of the United States and of the State of Texas, be at least 35 years of age, and have been a practicing lawyer, or a lawyer and judge of a court of record together, for at least ten years.

The Court of Criminal Appeals

To relieve the Supreme Court of some of its caseload, the Constitution of 1876 created the Court of Appeals, composed of three elected judges, with appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in those civil cases tried by the county courts. The judiciary article that was created by the constitutional amendment of 1891 changed the name of this court to the Court of Criminal Appeals and limited its jurisdiction to appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases only.

The constitutional amendment adopted in 1980 provides: "The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have final appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State, and its determination shall be final, in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be provided in this Constitution or as prescribed by law." The jurisdiction of this Court extends to criminal cases heard by the intermediate Courts of Appeals and directly from the trial courts in all cases in which the death penalty has been imposed. In addition, the Legislature has authorized this Court to promulgate "rules of post trial and appellate procedure" in criminal cases.

The Court of Criminal Appeals, as originally established, was composed of three judges. As its workload increased, the Legislature granted it the authority to appoint commissioners to aid in the disposition of pending cases. The number of judges on the Court was increased to five by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1966, and was again increased to nine by another constitutional amendment adopted in 1977.

Today, the Court of Criminal Appeals consists of a Presiding Judge and eight additional judges, who must have the same qualifications, and are elected in the same manner, as the justices of the Supreme Court.

The Courts of Appeals

The first intermediate appellate court in Texas was created by the Constitution of 1876, which created a Court of Appeals with appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in all civil cases originating in the county courts. However, by 1891, the docket of the Supreme Court had become so crowded that it became apparent that other changes were necessary to expedite the disposition of appellate cases. Thus, the amendment of 1891 converted the Court of Appeals into the Court of Criminal Appeals and authorized the Legislature to establish intermediate Courts of Civil Appeals located at various places throughout the State. The purpose of this amendment was to preclude the large quantity of civil litigation from further congesting the docket of the Supreme Court, while at the same time providing for a more convenient and less expensive system of intermediate appellate courts for civil cases. Under this authority, the Legislature has divided the state into 14 "Supreme Judicial Districts" and has established a Court of Appeals in each district. These courts are located in the following cities: Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Eastland, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston (two courts), San Antonio, Texarkana, Tyler, and Waco.

Each court has jurisdiction of appeals from the trial courts located in the same Supreme Judicial District. The appeals heard in these courts are based upon the "record" (a written transcription of the testimony given, exhibits introduced, and the documents filed in the trial court) and the written and oral arguments of the appellate lawyers. The Courts of Appeals do not receive testimony or hear witnesses in considering the cases on appeal. In cases of slander, divorce, and certain other civil matters, the opinion of these courts is usually final.

Each of the Courts of Appeals has at least three judges--a chief justice and two associate justices. However, the Legislature is empowered to increase this number whenever the workload of an individual court requires additional judges. Presently, the Dallas Court of Appeals has 13 justices, the two courts located in Houston (the First and the Fourteenth) each have nine justices, the courts located in Fort Worth and San Antonio each have seven, the courts located in Austin and Corpus Christi each have six, the courts located in El Paso and Amarillo each have four, and the remaining courts each retain the constitutional minimum number of three. Presently there are 80 judges serving on the 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals.

Judges of these courts are elected in partisan elections for six-year terms of office by the voters in their own districts. They must have the same qualifications for office as the justices of the Supreme Court of Texas.

TRIAL COURTS

The trial courts are those courts in which witnesses are heard, testimony is received, exhibits are offered into evidence, and a verdict is rendered. In a civil case, the verdict determines which party to the lawsuit prevails; in a criminal case, the verdict determines whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty of the crime alleged. In all cases, the parties have the right to a trial by a jury of either six or twelve local citizens. Except in capital murder cases, the parties have the right to waive a trial by jury and have the judge presiding over the case make the final determination. Determinations made in the trial courts can be appealed to the appellate courts for review.

The trial court structure in Texas has several different levels, each level handling different types of cases. The state trial court of general jurisdiction is known as the district court. The county-level courts consist of the "constitutional" county courts, the "statutory" county courts at law, and the probate courts. In addition, there are the municipal courts, located in each incorporated city of the State, and the justice of the peace courts, located in precincts of each county of the State.

District-Level Courts

The district courts are the primary trial courts in Texas, the successor to the common law nisi prius courts. The Constitution of the Republic provided for not less than three nor more than eight district courts, each having a judge elected by a joint ballot of both houses of Congress for a term of four years. Most constitutions of the State continued the district courts but provided that the judges were to be elected by the qualified voters. The exceptions were the Constitutions of 1845 and 1861 which provided for the appointment of judges by the Governor with confirmation by the Senate. All of the constitutions have provided that the judges of these courts must be chosen from defined districts (as opposed to state-wide election) and that court proceedings be conducted at the county seat of each county.

The district courts are the general trial courts for the State, having original jurisdiction in all criminal cases of the grade of felony, cases of divorce, title to land, contested elections, and all civil matters wherein the amount in controversy is $500 or more. This jurisdiction is concurrent with the "constitutional" county court in cases involving less than $1,000. In those counties having statutory county courts at law, the district courts usually have exclusive jurisdiction in civil cases wherein the amount in controversy is $5,000 or more and concurrent jurisdiction with the statutory county courts at law in cases where the amount in controversy exceeds $500 but is less than $5,000.

The district courts have original and appellate jurisdiction in probate matters and general supervisory control over commissioners courts. In addition, district courts have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by statute or by the Constitution, and have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

Appeals from judgments of the district courts are to the Court of Appeals having jurisdiction over the locale of the district court.

As of January 1, 1984, the Legislature will have established 364 separate district-level courts, identified by separate numbers, each having its own judge and geographical jurisdiction. Three more courts will become effective as of September 1, 1984. In a number of locations, the geographical jurisdiction of two or more district courts is overlapping. The judges of these courts are elected by the voters of the judicial district. The qualifications for office include being a citizen of the United States and of Texas, a resident of the judicial district for at least two years, and a practicing lawyer or judge for at least four years.

Most district courts exercise both criminal and civil jurisdiction, but in the metropolitan areas there is a tendency for the courts to specialize in either civil, criminal, or family law matters. In some localities, the courts that exercise criminal jurisdiction exclusively are designated criminal district courts. A limited number of district courts also exercise the subject matter jurisdiction normally exercised by county courts.

Specialized Jurisdiction

The Supreme Court has repeatedly held that the Legislature cannot reduce the constitutional jurisdiction of a district court. Lord v. Clayton, 163 Tex. 62, 352 S.W.2d 718 (1961); Zamora v. State, 508 S.W.2d 819 (Tex. Crim. App. 1974); Ex Parte Richards, 137 Tex. 520, 155 S.W.2d 597 (1941); Reasonover v. Reasonover, 122 Tex. 512, 58 S.W.2d 817 (1933); St. Louis S. W. Ry. v. Hall, 98 Tex. 480, 85 S.W. 786 (1905). See also, Castro v. State, 124 Tex. Crim. 13, 60 S.W.2d 211 (1933), and dissenting opinion in Ex Parte Bazemore, 430 S.W.2d 205 (Tex. Crim. App. 1968). In Lord v. Clayton, the Supreme Court held that although the statute creating the 136th District Court of Jefferson County expressly limited its jurisdiction to civil cases, and other legislation purported to give exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases to the Criminal District Court of Jefferson County, the 136th Court was nevertheless a constitutional district court with full power to impanel a grand jury, receive an indictment, and try the accused.

Presently, the state statutes purport to limit the jurisdiction of 16 district courts to civil matters only:

The constitutional power to establish "other courts" (Tex. Const. art. V, sec. 1) apparently does authorize the Legislature to establish special district courts with criminal jurisdiction only. Ex Parte Richards, 137 Tex. 520, 155 S.W. 2d 597 (1941). A statute limiting the jurisdiction of a district court to criminal matters was recognized by a Court of Civil Appeals. Cook v. Nelius, 498 S.W.3d 455 (Tex. Civ. App. - Houston [1st District] 1973, no writ). In a similar situation, the Court of Criminal Appeals did not comment on the question. Pittman v. State, 434 S.W.2d 352 (Tex. Crim. App. 1968).

Several district courts have been created with their jurisdiction so limited, but at this time only three courts are limited to exclusively criminal district-level jurisdiction:

Criminal District Court No. 1 of Tarrant County (arts. 1926-41, 1926-42a)
Criminal District Court No. 2 of Tarrant County (art. 1926-43)
Criminal District Court No. 3 of Tarrant County (art. 1926-44)

One is limited to criminal, divorce, dependent and neglected children, adoption, and civil habeas corpus proceedings:

Criminal District Court of Jefferson County (arts. 1926-61, 1926-62) 3

As will be noted later, other "Criminal District Courts" cannot be categorized as having only district-level criminal jurisdiction because they also have concurrent jurisdiction with county-level courts in certain matters.

While the courts have ruled that the Legislature may not limit the jurisdiction of regular district courts, the statutes in various ways express the intention of the Legislature that certain district courts give primary attention to only a portion of those matters over which they have jurisdiction.

Three courts are instructed to "give preference" to criminal cases and the statutes further provide that only criminal cases are to be filed in those courts:

144th	Bexar	art.	199(37)	[4]
175th	Bexar	art.	199(37)
187th	Bexar	art.	199a,§3.014

In the same manner, seven district courts are directed by statute to give preference to civil cases and only civil cases are to be filed in those courts:

37th	Bexar	art.	199(37)	[5]
45th	Bexar	art.	199(37)
57th	Bexar	art.	199(37)

150th	Bexar	arts.	199(37), 199(150)
166th	Bexar	art.	199(37)

Perhaps less stringent is the simple statutory instruction that certain courts are to "give preference" to certain matters, with no further restrictions. Forty-one courts are thus instructed to give preference to criminal cases:

105th	Nueces	art.	199(105)	[6]

Fourteen courts are similarly instructed to give preference to civil cases:

Ten district courts are to give preference to family law matters:

257th	Harris	art.	199a,§3.083
279th	Jefferson	art.	199a,§3.105

One court is directed by statute to give first preference to family law cases and second preference to criminal cases:

148th	Nueces	art.	199a,§3.001	[9]

The 65th Legislature (1977) converted all functioning domestic relations and special juvenile courts to district courts of general jurisdiction. However, these courts are to have primary responsibility for cases involving family law matters. There are now 32 such courts:

The other statutory provision observed above--that of limiting the types of cases which can be filed in a particular court--is used alone in several instances. Such a restriction is probably not mandatory on the clerk of the court. Lord v. Clayton, 163 Tex. 62, 352 S.W.2d 718 (1961).

The statutes provide that in 14 courts, civil cases only are to be filed:

11th	Harris.	art.	199(11)
55th	Harris.	art.	199(11)
61st	Harris.	art.	199(11)
80th	Harris.	art.	199(11)
113th	Harris.	art.	199(11)

164th	Harris.	art.	199(11)

In six courts, only criminal cases are to be filed:

174th	Harris.	arts.	199(11), 199(174)
176th	Harris.	arts.	199(11), 199(176)

180th	Harris.	arts.	199(11), 199(180)

12

Finally, for one court, the Legislature has specified that no tax cases shall be filed:

111th	Webb	arts.	199(111), 199a,§3.136

As noted above, some 119 statutory county courts at law and 11 probate courts have been created, largely in metropolitan areas. While the jurisdiction of these courts is generally carved out of that given to the "constitutional" county courts, the statutes specify in a few instances that certain jurisdiction normally in the district court is to be exercised concurrently by the county court at law and the district court.

Four county courts at law are given concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district courts in specified family law matters:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Lubbock County (art. 1970-340)
County Court at Law No. 2 of Lubbock County (art. 1970-340.1)
County Court at Law of Orange County (art. 1970-349A)
County Court at Law of Webb County (art. 1970-360)

14

Six county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in specified family law matters and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $10,000:

County Court at Law of Randall County (art. 1970-371)
County Court at Law of Reeves County (art. 1970-373)
County Court at Law of Val Verde County (art. 1970-373)
County Court at Law of Walker County (art. 1970-367)
County Court at Law of Wichita County (art. 1970-166d)
County Court at Law No. 2 of Wichita County (art. 1970-166e)

Sixteen county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in specified family law matters and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $20,000:

Finally, the statute creating one criminal district court provides that it shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the county courts at law in the county in matters of county court criminal jurisdiction:

Criminal District Court of Jefferson County (art. 1926-61) 24

A wide variety of statutory changes have been made blurring the line between district court jurisdiction and county court jurisdiction. In nine counties, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, has been transferred to the district court:

Bowie (5th, 102nd, 202nd District Courts) - art. 1970-306
Comal (22nd District Court) - Acts 1883, ch. 35, p. 24
Falls (82nd District Court) - Acts 1917, ch. 89, p. 243; Acts 1975, ch. 39, p. 84
Jones (259th District Court) - art. 199a, §3.085(b)
Mason (33rd District Court) - Acts 1887, ch. 73, p. 54 25
Robertson (20th District Court) - Acts 1917, ch. 96, p. 256
Shackelford (259th District Court) - art. 199a, §3.085(b)
Stephens (90th District Court) - art. 1970-321
Webb (49th, 111th, 341st District Courts) - Acts 1893, ch. 9, p. 5

All civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except for probate matters and the jurisdiction to receive guilty pleas in misdemeanor cases, has been transferred to the district court in six counties:

Baylor (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794. p. 3039
Cass (5th District Court) - Acts 1879, ch. 25, p. 21; Acts 1971, ch. 273, p. 1198; art, 1970-310 note

Eastland (91st District Court) - art. 1970-141a
King (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794, p. 3039
Knox (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794, p. 3039

In another county, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except in probate matters, has been transferred to the district court, and the two levels of courts have been granted concurrent jurisdiction to receive guilty pleas in misdemeanor cases:

Marion (115th, 276th District Courts) - Act 1887, ch. 36, p. 38; arts. 1970-322a; art. 199a, §3.102 27

In another county, all civil cases, except those involving probate matters, and all criminal cases appealed from the justice and municipal courts have been transferred to the district court, and the county and district courts have concurrent jurisdiction in cases in which the county court would have had original criminal jurisdiction:

Red River (102nd District Court) - art. 1970-314a 28

All civil jurisdiction of the county court, except in probate matters, has been transferred to the district court in six counties:

Glasscock (118th District Court) - art. 1970-320 and Acts 1957, ch. 196, p. 399
Mills (35th District Court) - Acts 1887, ch. 97, p. 109; Acts 1907, ch. 101, p. 199
Navarro (13th District Court) - art. 1970-326 29
Sabine (1st, 273rd District Courts) - Acts 1959, 2nd C.S. ch. 7, p. 90
San Augustine (1st, 273rd District Courts) Acts 1959, 2nd C.S., ch. 7, p. 90
Wichita (89th District Court) - art. 1970-166b

Rather than transfer jurisdiction absolutely from the county court to the district court, the Legislature in several instances has given both the district and county courts concurrent jurisdiction in certain matters.

Thirteen district courts have concurrent criminal jurisdiction with the county court in matters normally in the county court:

9th (Polk) - art. 199, subd. (9)
2nd 9th (Polk) - art. 199, subd. (2nd 9, § 10b)
207th (Caldwell) - art. 199a, §3.035(b)
258th (Polk) - art. 199a, §3.084
Criminal District Court of Dallas County - art. 1926-21
Criminal District Court No. 2 of Dallas County - art. 1926-21
Criminal District Court No. 3 of Dallas County - art. 1926-14 30
Criminal District Court No. 4 of Dallas County - art. 199 (162)
Criminal District Court No. 5 of Dallas County - art. 1926-15
Criminal District Court No. 1 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-41
Criminal District Court No. 2 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-43

Criminal District Court No. 3 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-44
Criminal District Court No. 4 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-45 30

In four counties, the district and county courts have concurrent jurisdiction in all matters normally vested solely in the county court:

Hill (66th District Court) - art. 1970-333
Johnson (18th District Court) - art. 1970-335
VanZandt (294th District Court) - art. 199a, §3.120
Wood (294th District Court) - art. 199a, §3.120 31

County-Level Courts

The county courts were established by the Constitution of 1836. They were presided over by a chief justice, who was appointed by the Congress of the Republic of Texas for a term of four years. This continued from 1836 to 1841, when the office was made elective. The term was shortened to two years in the Constitutions of 1845 and 1861. Under the Constitution of 1866, the name of the presiding officer of the court was changed from chief justice to county judge, and the term of office was again established at four years.

The county court was abolished by the Constitution of 1869, but was re-established by the Constitution of 1876 with an elected presiding officer, the county judge, with a two-year term. The term of office was increased to four years by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1954.

Today, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county. Generally speaking, "constitutional" county courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in civil cases wherein the amount in controversy is $200 or more, and less than $1,000, general jurisdiction over probate cases, and exclusive original jurisdiction over all misdemeanors whose punishment for the offense upon conviction is by fine exceeding $200 or where a jail sentence not to exceed two years may be imposed. However, the county courts do not have criminal jurisdiction where a criminal district court exists unless expressly authorized by statute (Tex. Const. art. V, sec. 16). County courts generally have appellate jurisdiction over cases tried originally in the justice of the peace and municipal courts upon trial de novo.

Original and appellate judgments of the county courts may be appealed to the Courts of Appeals. The Constitution provides that the county judge "shall be well informed in the law of the State ..." This has been interpreted to mean that neither formal study of the law nor a license to practice law is a necessary qualification to hold office as county judge. Presently, of the 254 county judges in the state, approximately one-fourth are licensed to practice law. Under its constitutional authorization to "...establish such other courts as it may deem necessary...[and to]...conform the jurisdiction of the district and other inferior courts thereto," the Legislature has created "statutory" county courts, primarily in metropolitan counties, to provide assistance to the single "constitutional" county court which is authorized for each county. As of January 1, 1984, the Legislature had authorized a total of 144 of these statutory courts in 59 counties to relieve the county judge of some or all of the judicial duties of office.

Under the constitutional grant of authority the Legislature has established the following county courts at law:

The judges of these statutory courts are elected in county-wide, partisan elections for four-year terms of office, with any vacancies occurring between elections being filled by appointment of the county commissioners. The statutes creating these courts have uniformly required that the persons serving as judges of these courts must be licensed to practice law in this State.

The legal jurisdiction of the special county courts varies considerably and is determined by the specific statute that establishes the particular court. As the varied names suggest, some of these courts have subject-matter jurisdiction in only limited fields, such as civil, criminal, probate, or appellate (from justice courts or municipal courts); however, even the specialized name does not always disclose the complete function of the court. The concurrent civil jurisdiction of the county courts at law with the district courts extends to a higher dollar amount in controversy than for "constitutional" county courts, but to determine the exact jurisdiction of any one of the courts, it is necessary to review the specific statute that established it.

In general, county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with district courts in civil matters where the amount in controversy is at least $500 and not more than $5,000. Other jurisdiction of a county court at law is, broadly speaking, either carved out of the "constitutional" county court's regular jurisdiction or shared with it (concurrent).

The jurisdiction of county courts at law and their relation to the "constitutional" county courts take many forms. In the creation of two county courts at law, all civil, criminal, and probate jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the county court at law:

County Court at Law of Reeves County
(art. 1970-372)

In the creation of 24 county courts at law, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the county court at law and it was provided that the courts would have concurrent jurisdiction in probate matters:

(art. 1970-360)

One county court at law was created to exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in all civil and criminal matters that had earlier been transferred from the county court to the district court. The county court at law and county court have concurrent probate jurisdiction:

County Court at Law of Comal County 34
(art. 1970-368)

The Legislature provided, in the creation of four county courts at law, that all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, was transferred to the county court at law, and that the judge of the county court at law could "act for" the constitutional county judge in probate matters:

County Court at Law No. 2 of Bexar
County (art. 1970-301)
County Court at Law No. 3 of Bexar
County (art. 1970-301d) 35
County Court of Jefferson County at Law
(arts. 1970-112, 1970-113)
County Court of Jefferson County at Law
No. 2 (art. 1970-126a)

Similarly, another county court at law was transferred all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, the judge of the county court at law could "act for" the constitutional county judge in probate matters, and the county court at law is instructed to give preference to criminal cases:

[1]County Court at Law No. 3 of Jefferson 36
County (art. 1970-126b)

For four county courts at law, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, was transferred to the county court at law:

(art. 1970-332)
County Court at Law of Taylor County
(art. 1970-343)

Two county courts at law were transferred all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, and the county courts at law were instructed to give preference to criminal matters and appeals de novo from municipal and justice courts:

County (art. 1970-301e.2)

In one instance, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the county court at law, the courts have concurrent jurisdiction in probate, and the county court at law is instructed to give preference to original jurisdiction criminal cases:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Nueces County (arts. 1970-339, 1970-339A, 1970-339C) 39

Similarly, another county court at law in the same county was transferred all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, the courts have concurrent jurisdiction in probate, and the county court at law is instructed to give preference to civil cases and criminal cases appealed from courts of inferior jurisdiction:

County Court at Law No. 2 of Nueces County (arts. 1970-339A, 1970-339C) 40

Civil jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, was transferred to six county courts at law:

County Civil Court at Law No. 1 of Harris County (art. 1970-76)
County Civil Court at Law No. 2 of Harris County (art. 1970-110d)

In three counties, concurrent jurisdiction may be exercised by the "constitutional" county court and the county court at law in all matters except probate, over which the county court retains exclusive jurisdiction:

County Court at Law of Nolan County (art. 1970-347)
County Court at Law of Potter County (art. 1970-311a)
[1]County Court at Law No. 2 of Taylor County (art. 1970-343a)

In one county, concurrent jurisdiction may be exercised by the "constitutional" county court and the county court at law in all matters except civil cases up to $500, over which the county court retains exclusive jurisdiction. The county court at law may exercise probate and mental health jurisdiction only when the county judge is absent or unable to handle proceedings in those matters:

One county court at law may exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in all matters except civil cases with less than $500 in controversy, over which the county court retains exclusive jurisdiction. The county court at law has concurrent probate jurisdiction with the county court:

County Court at Law No. 2 of Wichita County (art. 1970-166e)

Six of the county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in all matters except probate:

County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 1 (art. 1970-3)
County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 2 (art. 1970-16)
County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 3 (art. 1970-31.1)
County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 4 (art. 1970-31.1)
County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 5 (art. 1970-31.2)
County Court at Law of Henderson County (art. 1970-366)(inactive)

Two county courts at law were created with the proviso that they and the county court were to have concurrent jurisdiction in all matters, but that no probate cases were to be filed in the county court at law:

County Court No. 1 of Galveston County (art. 1970-342a)
County Court No. 2 of Galveston County (art. 1970-342b)

47

In four counties, the probate jurisdiction of the county court has been vested in specialized probate courts. The statutes creating nine of these probate courts provide that they are to have concurrent probate jurisdiction only with the "constitutional" county court:

Probate Court No. 1 of Bexar County (art. 1970-301e.2)
Probate Court No. 2 of Bexar County (art. 1970-301e.2)
Probate Court of Dallas County (art. 1970-31a)
Probate Court No. 2 of Dallas County (arts. 1970-31a, 1970-31b)
Probate Court No. 3 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31c)
Probate Court No. 1 of Harris County (art. 1970-110a)
Probate Court No. 2 of Harris County (art. 1970-110a.2)
Probate Court of Tarrant County (art. 1970-345)
Probate Court No. 2 of Tarrant County (art. 1970-345a)

48

One probate court has concurrent jurisdiction only with the "constitutional" county court and is to have "primary" responsibility at all times for all mental illness proceedings:

Probate Court No. 3 of Harris County (art. 1970-110a.3)

49

Another specialized probate court, has concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in all matters, but only probate cases are to be filed in the probate court:

Probate and County Court of Galveston (art. 1970-342)

Some county courts at law have been created primarily to handle criminal cases. Most of these (26) are limited to criminal cases, concurrent with the "constitutional" county court:

County Criminal Court of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.10)
County Criminal Court No. 2 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.11)
County Criminal Court No. 3 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.12)

County Criminal Court No. 5 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.14)
County Criminal Court No. 6 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.15)

Four county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in criminal matters, and have sole jurisdiction of appeals from justice of the peace and municipal courts:

County Criminal Court of Appeals of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.20)
County Criminal Court of Appeals No. 2 of Dallas County (art. 19870-31.12) 52
County Criminal Court No. 3 of Tarrant County (art. 1970-62c)
County Criminal Court No. 4 of Tarrant County (art. 1970-62d)

Justice of the Peace Courts

The position of justice of the peace was established by the Constitution of the Republic which provided for a "convenient number of Justices of the Peace" to be elected by the qualified voters of each county, for terms of two years. This office has been retained in all subsequent constitutions, although the jurisdiction of these courts has been severely restricted in later constitutions.

The justice of the peace is important in the capacity as a committing magistrate, with the authority to issue warrants for the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with the commission of public offenses, both felonies and misdemeanors. As a magistrate, the justice of the peace may hold preliminary hearings, reduce testimony to writing, discharge the accused, or remand the accused to jail and fix bail. In addition, the justice of the peace serves as the coroner in those counties where there is no provision for a medical examiner, serves as an ex officio notary public, and may perform marriage ceremonies.

As amended in November 1983, the Texas Constitution provides that each county is to be divided into at least one, and not more than eight, justice precincts, in each of which is to be elected a justice of the peace. If the precinct includes a city of 18,000 or more inhabitants, an additional justice of the peace is authorized. Approximately 949 justice of the peace courts are in operation today.

Justices of the peace are elected by the voters of the respective precincts of the county in partisan elections for four-year terms of office. There are no constitutional or statutory qualifications to hold this office and only about eight percent of the approximately 949 justices of the peace in the State are lawyers.

Justice of the peace courts have original jurisdiction in criminal cases where punishment upon conviction may be by fine only, not to exceed $200. These courts generally have exclusive jurisdiction of civil matters when the amount in controversy does not exceed $200, and concurrent jurisdiction with the county courts when the amount in controversy is from $200 to $1,000. The justice of the peace courts also function as small claims courts.

Trials in justice of the peace courts are not of record. Appeals from these courts are upon trial de novo in the county court, the county court at law, or the district court.

In 32 counties, the county court, by special statute, has been given concurrent civil jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in that county:

[1]County Court at Law of Williamson County (art. 1970-380)

The county court in eight counties has been given concurrent jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts in both civil and criminal matters:

Ten county courts at law have been given concurrent jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts in both civil and criminal cases:

County Court at Law of Cameron County (art. 1970-305)
County Court at Law No. 2 of Cameron County (art. 1970-305c)
County Court at Law of Grayson County (art. 1970-332)

County Court at Law No. 3 of Nueces County (art. 1970-339C)
County Court at Law No. 4 of Nueces County (art. 1970-339D)

Municipal Courts

Under its constitutional authority to create "...such other courts as may be provided by law," the Texas Legislature has created municipal courts in each incorporated city of the State.

Presently, municipal courts are operating in approximately 828 cities. Metropolitan cities usually have more than one municipal court. These courts have neither civil nor appellate jurisdiction, but do have original and exclusive jurisdiction over violations of city ordinances. Such ordinances are generally punishable by fines up to $200, but since September 1, 1983, fines of up to $1,000 may be provided for violation of ordinances relating to fire safety, zoning, public health, and sanitation. The municipal courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in misdemeanor cases resulting from violations of state laws occurring within the city limits, when punishment upon conviction may be by fine only, not to exceed $200.

Municipal judges also serve as magistrates of the State. In this capacity, the municipal judge has authority to issue warrants for the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with the commission of public offenses, both felonies and misdemeanors. As a magistrate, the municipal judge may issue search and arrest warrants, hold preliminary hearings, reduce testimony to writing, discharge an accused, or remand the accused to jail and fix bail.

Trials in the municipal courts, except eight, are not of record, and appeals go to the county court, the county court at law or the district court upon trial de novo.

Under the authority of special statutes, municipal courts in the following eight cities operate as "courts of record":

El Paso
Houston
Longview
Lubbock
Marshall
Midland
Sweetwater
Wichita Falls

Statutory authorization to establish municipal courts of record in Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Odessa, and San Antonio has not been implemented.

In the courts of record, a formal record and transcript is made of the proceedings in the trial and appeals of these cases are made on the record perfected in the municipal courts. Such appeals are generally heard in the county court or county court at law, but the Legislature has authorized the City of El Paso to create a municipal court of appeals to hear appeals from that city's municipal courts. The statutes creating these municipal courts of record uniformly require the judge to be licensed to practice law in this State. No such provision is required of the other municipal judges, and of the approximately 1,073 municipal judges in this State, less than 40 percent presently are licensed as attorneys.

Selection and terms of office of municipal court judges vary from city to city. While in a few of the smaller cities of the State, municipal judges are elected at city elections, the vast number are appointed by the governing body of the city. Terms of office range from two years to an indefinite term--at the will of the governing body.

Article 200a, V.T.C.S., establishes nine administrative judicial districts in the State for administrative purposes. An active or retired district judge or an active or retired appellate judge with judicial experience in a district court serves as the Presiding Judge, in each such district upon appointment by the Governor.

The Presiding Judge convenes an annual conference of the judges in the administrative district to consult on the state of business in the courts. This conference is empowered to adopt rules for the administration of cases in the district. The Presiding Judge may assign active or retired district judges residing within the administrative district to any of the district courts within the administrative district. The Presiding Judge of one administrative district may request the Presiding Judge of another administrative district to assign a judge from that district to sit in a district court located in the administrative district of the Presiding Judge making the request.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas convenes an annual conference of the nine Presiding Judges to determine the need for assignment of judges and to promote the uniform administration of the assignment of judges. The Chief Justice is empowered to assign judges of one administrative district for service in another whenever such assignments are necessary for the prompt and efficient administration of justice.

ANNUAL SUPPLEMENTAL COMPENSATION

Art. 6819a--18a, V.T.C.S., authorizes the counties in each Supreme Judicial District to pay each justice of the Court of Appeals for that district a sum not to exceed $15,000 per year for administrative services rendered. This compensation is in addition to the salary paid by the State. The 1984-85 General Appropriations Act, at Art. IV, Page 25, "Judiciary--Special Provisions," Sec. 2, authorizes associate justices of the Courts of Appeals to receive a combined yearly salary from state and county sources of up to $1,000 less than the state salary paid to justices of the Supreme Court. This same provision authorizes the chief justices of the Courts of Appeals to receive $500 more than the associate justices of the courts. As of January 1, 1984, the salary paid to a justice of the Supreme Court was $74,300.

Various statutes pertaining to particular courts or counties allow the state salaries of district court judges to be supplemented from county funds. The 1984-85 General Appropriations Act, at Art. IV, Page 25, "Judiciary--Special Provisions," Sec. 2, authorizes district court judges to receive a total salary of up to $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary from state and county sources received by associate justices of the Courts of Appeals in whose district the district court is located.

Justices of the Courts of Appeals

JUDICIAL BRANCH: REPORTS AND DEVELOPMENTS

SUPREME COURT BUILDING
AUSTIN, TEXAS

REPORTS OF JUDICIAL AGENCIES

Texas Judicial Council

The Texas Judicial Council was established in 1929 by article 2328a, V.T.C.S., to make a ". . . continuous study of and report upon the organization, rules, procedure and practice of the judicial system of the State of Texas, the work accomplished and the results produced by that system and its various parts and methods of its improvement." In addition, the Council maintains statistics on docket activity of the courts of the State; conducts studies on methods to improve the administration of justice; formulates methods of simplifying judicial procedures; and makes a detailed report upon the proceedings of the Council to the Governor, the Legislature, and the Supreme Court.

Three meetings of the Texas Judicial Council were held during 1983--on March 18, June 24, and September 16.

Membership of the Council

Council membership is composed of: (1) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, or their designees from among the membership of their respective courts; (2) two justices of the Courts of Appeals; (3) two presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts; (4) the chairman and immediate past chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; (5) seven members of the bar appointed by the Governor, and (6) two non-lawyer citizens, one of whom must be a journalist.

The Hon. Ben Z. Grant, Judge of the 71st District Court in Marshall, presently serves as president of the Judicial Council. He has served in that position since July 1980. Before being elected to the bench in November 1980, Judge Grant had served for ten years as a member of the Texas House of Representatives. During that tenure, he served for three terms as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and is serving as a member of the Council as a result of that service.

Also serving as officers of the Council are the Hon. Charles W. Barrow, Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, vice president, and the Hon. Tom G. Davis, Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, secretary.

Legislative members of the Council are: State Sen. Oscar H. Mauzy, chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; State Sen. Ray Farabee, immediate past chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; State Rep. Robert Bush, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee; and Judge Grant, immediate past chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Members from the Courts of Appeals are: the Hon. Sam Bass, Associate Justice, First Court of Appeals, Houston; and the Hon. Paul C. Murphy, Associate Justice, Fourteenth Court of Appeals, Houston.

Professional Education For Municipal Judges

Article 1200f, V.T.C.S., directs the Council to encourage the development of courses for the continuing legal education of municipal judges; to promulgate rules and guidelines for the courses and the accreditation of such courses; and to submit an annual report on this program to the Governor, the Attorney General, and the city attorneys of the cities of those judges who have not attended an accredited course. The Council is empowered to grant waivers from the provisions of the law to individual judges. An accreditation committee composed of Judge Tom G. Davis, chairman, Justice Joe Spurlock II, and Mr. L. E. Frazier, was appointed to make recommendations to the Council on the accreditation of courses and the granting of waivers.

During the year, the Council accredited 19 courses and more than 560 municipal judges attended these courses. (See table on following page for details.) In addition, the Council granted 17 waivers from the education program.

The significance of this program is expected to greatly expand in 1984 due to the amendment of article 1200f by H.B. 1068, effective January 1, 1984. In that legislation, the continuing legal education requirements for municipal judges are made mandatory. The eight-hour courses for lawyer judges and non-lawyer judges (following the initial 24-hour course) are increased to 12 hours, and a municipal court judges and personnel training fund is established to be administered by the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. The fund is to provide grants to statewide professional associations of municipal court judges and municipal court personnel to provide continuing education courses or seminars for those judges and personnel, financed by a 50 cent court cost on non-parking and non-pedestrian offense convictions in municipal courts.

The Office of the Comptroller has raised a possible problem with H.B. 1068 in that no specific appropriation of funds was made to the Criminal Justice Division and the Governor has been requested to open the call of the next special session to a corrective amendment for this purpose.

County Bail Bond Board Reports

The 67th Legislature enacted a new law, Senate Bill 727, relating to the regulation of bail bondsmen, which became effective August 31, 1981. Section 5(f)(8) of that new law (article 2372p-3, V.T.C.S.) provides that it will be the duty of the county bail bond boards:

> To file reports and furnish information on the operation of the bonding business in the county at the request of the Texas Judicial Council which shall report annually to the governor and the legislature on or before December 1 of each year on the operation of the bonding business in the state.

Section 5 of the statute automatically creates a county bail bond board in counties having a population of more than 110,000. The act authorizes other counties, at their option, to create a county bail bond board.

A questionnaire and statistical report form was distributed to the counties involved, to be returned by November 18, 1983. Responses to the questionnaire were compiled into a report to the Governor and the Legislature. Because of the low response of counties to the request for information, a valid summarization of the bonding business state-wide could not be made.

Action on Recommended Legislation

Prior to the Regular Session of the 68th Legislature, the Texas Judicial Council made recommendations to the Legislature in 18 specific areas. The Legislature enacted measures recommended by the Council in seven areas:

1. Assignment of Justices to Courts of Appeals.
   The Council recommended that article 1812, V.T.C.S., be amended to provide for the payment of travel and lodging expenses and per diem compensation to appellate judges assigned under the act on the same basis as is presently paid to district judges assigned under the provisions of article 200a, V.T.C.S. (S.B. 1085)

2. Fees in Civil Cases.
   The Council recommended that the Legislature approximately double the fees in civil cases before the Courts of Appeals pursuant to article 3924, V.T.C.S. S.B. 1082 raised these fees and dedicated the increase to professional education for the judges and personnel of those courts.

3. Interest Rate on Judgments.
   The Council recommended that the nine percent interest rate on judgments provided in article 5069-1.05, V.T.C.S., be raised to 12 percent, unless otherwise provided in a contract which forms the basis for the suit. Interest rates on judgments were raised by S.B. 36.

4. Venue in Civil Actions.
   It was the general consensus of the Council that simplification of venue (article 1995, V.T.C.S.) be recommended to the Legislature, but no endorsement of a specific bill was made. S.B. 898 substantially revised the venue rules.

5. Duties of Clerks of Courts of Appeals.
   The Council endorsed the proposal of an earlier meeting of the clerks of the Courts of Appeals to eliminate the requirement of entering orders on motions in the court minutes; and eliminate the requirement of article 1835, V.T.C.S., that costs be accounted for in the court minutes. Both items were included in H.B. 2245.

6. Preservation and Disposition of Records of Courts of Appeals.
   The Council recommended a bill to provide more definite guidelines for the destruction of old and unneeded records of the Courts of Appeals and more usable procedures for the microfilming of records of the courts. (S.B. 1086)

7. Judicial Conduct Commission Proceedings.
   The Council proposed that records of formal proceedings before the Commission on Judicial Conduct be made public, that discovery procedures be made available to judges once a formal complaint is filed, and that the authority of the Commission to issue a private reprimand be repealed. The first of these two items were included in H.B. 44 and H.J.R. 4, among other things.

In an additional four areas, legislation recommended by the Council passed one house of the Legislature, but not the other:

1. Limitation on Time to Raise Campaign Funds.
   The Council recommended that applicable sections of the Election Code be amended to provide that candidates for the office of judge of any appellate court, district court, statutory county court, or county court performing judicial functions, may raise campaign funds only during the period beginning October 1 of the year preceding the filing deadline for office and ending January 31 of the year following the general election. (H.B. 1213 passed the House, but was not reported from Senate committee.)

2. Support Personnel for District Judges.
   The Council recommended a bill to allow appropriation of a support personnel allowance for each district judge in the State. This support personnel allowance could be used by the district judge to employ whatever support personnel he or she determines to be necessary to aid in discharging the administrative duties of the office of the judge, with three limitations. (H.B. 940 passed the House, but failed on the final vote in the Senate.)

3. Percentage Relationship of Judicial Salaries.
   The Council endorsed a proposal of the Judicial Section and two State Bar committees to amend article 6813b, V.T.C.S., to provide that justices of Courts of Appeals be paid a state salary that is five percent less than that appropriated for the salary of a justice of the Supreme Court and that district court judges be paid 10 percent less than a Supreme Court justice. (Also a part of H.B. 940, noted above, which passed the House, but failed in the Senate.)

4. Judicial Districts Board.
   The Council endorsed the proposal of the State Bar Committee on Legislation in the Public Interest for an amendment to article V of the Texas Constitution adding a new section creating the Judicial Districts Board and a proposed bill creating the Judicial Districts Board and defining the powers of the Board to reapportion any or all of the several judicial districts. The Council added to the proposal a direction to the Board to make a general, statewide reapportionment of judicial districts every ten years. (S.J.R. 16 and S.B. 576 were passed by the Senate, but not reported out of House committee.)

The following seven recommendations of the Council were not acted upon by the Legislature:

1. Merit selection of judges; or, as an alternative,
2. Nonpartisan election of judges; or, as another alternative,
3. Separate ballot columns for judicial races; and
4. Codification of rules of evidence for criminal cases; and
5. Clarification of authority of trial judges to regulate voir dire examination of jurors; and
6. Making uniform the monetary civil jurisdiction limits between district courts and county courts; and
7. Addition of legislative and lay members to the Judicial Council.

Subsequent to the convening of the 68th Legislature, the Council endorsed the following bills brought to its attention at the regular meeting on March 19, 1983:

--H.B. 227, which would amend article 37.07, C.C.P., to provide for a mistrial upon the failure of a jury to agree on a sentence in a non-capital criminal case only if fewer than 10 jurors (5 in county court) agree on punishment.
--H.J.R. 95 and H.B. 1713, dealing with defects in indictments, endorsed in concept.
--The joint resolution and bill to allow garnishment for enforcing child support payments.

Office of Court Administration

The Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System was established by article 2328b, V.T.C.S., in 1977. The Office operates under the direction and supervision of the Supreme Court of Texas and is charged by this statute with the implementation of the provisions of the act and any rules of administration promulgated by the Supreme Court for the efficient administration of justice in this State. The statute specifically provides for the following duties to be performed by the Office:

(1) assist the justices and judges of the various courts in discharging their administrative duties;

(2) consult with and assist the administrative judges in discharging their duties under provisions of law and rules promulgated by the Supreme Court;

(3) make such recommendations to the Supreme Court as may be appropriate for the implementation of this act;

(4) examine the administrative and business methods and systems employed in the offices of the clerks of court and other offices related to and serving the courts and make recommendations for necessary improvement, and recommend forms and other documents used to record the business of the courts;

(5) examine the state of the dockets and practices and procedures of the courts and make recommendations for the promotion of the orderly and efficient administration of justice;

(6) prepare and submit budget estimates of state appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system, and study and make recommendations on the expenditures of state funds appropriated for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system;

(7) consult with and assist the clerks of court and other officers and employees of the courts and of offices related to and serving the courts to provide for the efficient administration of justice;

(8) consult with and make recommendations to the court administrators and court coordinators of the courts of the State to provide for uniform administration and promote the efficient administration of justice in all courts of the State;

(9) perform such additional duties as may be assigned by the Supreme Court and by the Chief Justice; and

(10) prepare an annual report of the activities of the Office to be published in the Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council.

Article 2328b further provides that the Office of Court Administration shall provide the necessary staff functions for the efficient operation of the Texas Judicial Council. In addition, under an order of the Supreme Court, the Office also provides staff support for the Texas Court Reporters Committee.

Statistical Reporting Systems

Under the authority of article 2328a, section 5, V.T.C.S., which provides for the reporting of statistical data and other information pertaining to the amount and character of the business transacted by the courts, the Office receives approximately 2,500 reports each month from the courts of the State. These reports are checked upon receipt for internal accuracy, any necessary corrections are made, and then the information is entered into a computerized data system. This provides ready access to the current status of the dockets of the courts throughout the State on a county-by-county basis. Numerous requests for this type of information are received each year. The monthly reports are submitted on official forms developed in consultation with advisory committees of local court officials. These include a six-page report for the activities of the Courts of Appeals, an eight-page report for the district courts, a five-page report for county-level courts, and two-page reports for the justice of the peace and municipal courts. Annual reports on court activities are received from the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Court Activity Reports

From the statistics reported to the Office, a monthly summary of district court activity is compiled for each of the nine administrative judicial districts of the State. These reports are provided to the presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts to provide the judges with current district court statistical caseload data on all counties within their administrative judicial districts and to ensure the effective and efficient administration of justice within their individual districts.

In addition, beginning in March 1983, the Office began preparing quarterly reports on docket activity in the district courts and the county-level courts, reported by county. These quarterly reports are made available to all interested district and county-level judges.

Equalization of Courts of Appeals Dockets

This Office also maintains a monthly reporting system on the activity of the Courts of Appeals to aid the Supreme Court in its responsibility of equalizing the dockets of the Courts of Appeals pursuant to article 1738, V.T.C.S. A report on the status of the dockets of each Court of Appeals is prepared by the Office each month to enable the Supreme Court to make decisions on the equalization of dockets between the Courts of Appeals. As a result of this activity during 1983, cases were ordered transferred by the Supreme Court among the Courts of Appeals as follows:

January, 1983

1 civil case from 14th (Houston) to 1st (Houston)

Annual Report on the Texas Judicial System

As provided by law, the Fifty-fourth Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council and the Sixth Annual Report of the Office of Court Administration were published as a single report in July, 1983. This 731-page report included statistical data on and analysis of court activity at all levels of courts in the State of Texas for calendar year 1982. Approximately 23,000 monthly statistical reports were compiled and validated during 1982 to produce the data in the Annual Report. The Annual Report also contained information on the variances in subject-matter jurisdiction of Texas trial courts; a thorough, descriptive analysis of the judicial system; and a comprehensive directory of judges, clerks, and other persons employed by the Texas Judicial System. Also included were statistics of assignments by presiding judges of the nine administrative judicial districts. The Annual Report was sent to all judges and clerks, members of the Legislature, state and federal agencies, criminal justice planning units, local officials, and libraries. Approximately 4,000 copies were distributed.

Legislative Services

During 1983, the legal staff of this Office continued its normal liaison duties with committees and members of the 68th Legislature during the regular session.

During the session, numerous requests for special statistical or fiscal reports on proposed or pending bills were received from members of the Legislature and staffs of the various legislative committees having jurisdiction over bills affecting the courts. These requests usually entailed the preparation of individualized reports for reply.

The staff drafted more than 30 bills for members of the Legislature, judges, and organizations to consider for introduction during the 68th Session. Assistance of various types was provided to the legislative committees concerning the Judiciary, including the Senate Jurisprudence and State Affairs Committees and the House Judiciary and Judicial Affairs Committees. The staff also prepared a daily memo analyzing bills that would affect the judicial branch of government and distributed it to the justices of the Supreme Court, the presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts, and other interested officials of the judiciary.

Texas Judicial Report

During the past several years, the Office has published intermittently a newsletter called the Texas Judicial Report for judges, clerks and other court personnel.

Following the 68th Session of the Legislature, a special tabloid-sized edition of this newsletter, dealing with new legislation affecting the judiciary, was widely distributed and well received.

A decision was made that the Texas Judicial Report should be published on a periodic basis, three times a year, and another, more news-oriented issue was published in December 1983, again in tabloid size. The first 1984 issue of the newsletter was expected in early spring.

State Budget Estimates for the Judiciary

The act establishing the Office of Court Administration provides that the Office is to prepare and submit to the Legislature budget estimates for the maintenance and operation of the judicial branch of government. In fulfilling this responsibility for the 68th Legislature, the Office of Court Administration worked with the staffs of the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Office of Budget and Planning to coordinate the preparation of budget requests by the various courts and judicial agencies. Staff members personally conferred with personnel and justices of each of the Courts of Appeals, the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, and the state-wide judicial agencies located in Austin to provide technical assistance in the preparation of their budgets.

Judicial Budget Board

In October, 1983, Chief Justice Jack Pope of the Supreme Court announced the establishment of a Judicial Budget Board "to provide a vehicle for all judges to have a voice in the preparation and submission of a unified state budget for the judiciary...."

Members named to the Judicial Budget Board were: Chief Justice Jack Pope and Justice Robert M. Campbell of the Supreme Court, who was designated chairman of the Board; Judge Michael J. McCormick of the Court of Criminal Appeals; the following Chief Justices of the Courts of Appeals: Frank G. Evans, Houston (1st); Austin McCloud, Eastland; and Paul W. Nye, Corpus Christi; the following Associate Justices of the Courts of Appeals: Lee Duggan, Jr., Houston (1st); Bob Gammage and Bob Shannon, Austin; Joe Spurlock II, Fort Worth; and District Judges Ray D. Anderson, Brownfield; Neil Caldwell, Angleton; Barbara G. Culver, Midland; Ben Z. Grant, Marshall; Raul L. Longoria, Edinburg; W. T. McDonald, Jr., Bryan; Charles Murray, Fort Worth; and B. B. Schraub, Seguin.

Technical Assistance to Trial Courts

Several trial courts of the State were provided technical assistance by the Office this year through on-site evaluations and recommendations for improvement. These projects necessarily involve considerable time to enable a proper needs-assessment. Some on-site assessments can be made in two or three days, while others require several visits. All must be accompanied by lengthy research and careful preparation.

In January, the court processes and practices of the County Courts at Law of Nueces County were examined at the request of the judges of those courts. This project required a two-day on-site investigation and approximately 10 days to research and prepare recommendations.

Currently, at the request of the District Clerk of Collin County, the office is working on an extensive examination of the administrative procedures, business methods, and systems employed in the District Clerk's office. At the same time, the court processes and practices of the district courts of Travis County are being evaluated at the request of the district judges. Each of these projects will require several on-site visits and lengthy research and preparation.

On-site technical assistance was afforded the County and District Clerk of Zapata County in September. At his request, assistance was given in the administrative procedures of his office.

Finally, a central-intake criminal caseflow system accompanied by a court coordinator procedural support system is presently being created for Maverick County at the request of the County Auditor for the County Judge and Commissioners Court.

Support to Other Agencies

The staff presented several lectures at seminars and schools sponsored by the Texas Justice of the Peace and Constables Association to aid in providing the schooling mandated by article 5972, V.T.C.S., and at seminars for municipal court judges conducted under the provisions of article 1200f, V.T.C.S. Presentations were also made at County and District Clerks Association conferences and the Texas Court Clerks Association seminars and meetings to provide technical assistance and to improve the reporting rates on the monthly court activity reports previously discussed. The Office also provides information on the Judicial branch of government and court activities to many other state agencies and professional organizations whose work requires a knowledge of the workings of the Judiciary and to many individual citizens. It maintains contact with the state court administrative offices of other states and with the National Center for State Courts to keep abreast of new developments in the administration of justice in other states and to provide them with information on the Texas Judicial System.

Meetings, Conferences, and Seminars Sponsored

Court Reporters Certification Board

The Texas Court Reporters Committee was established by the 65th Legislature and operates pursuant to article 2324b, V.T.C.S., which became effective on August 29, 1977. Amendments to this law enacted by the 68th Legislature and effective September 1, 1983, change the name of the agency to the Court Reporters Certification Board.

Article 2324b requires each person who desires to engage in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State to be certified by the Supreme Court upon the recommendation of the Board.

Responsibilities of the Board

The Board is charged with the responsibilities of reviewing applications of persons who were engaged in court reporting prior to the enactment of the statute for certification without examination; developing and administering tests on the qualifications and skills for court reporters as set out in the law; collecting fees; certifying successful applicants to the Supreme Court for official certification; conducting hearings on complaints filed against certified shorthand reporters; reprimanding certified reporters, or suspending or revoking certification of reporters for unprofessional conduct, appealable to the district courts.

Court reporters who were actively engaged in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State prior to the effective date of the act, August 29, 1977, may apply for certification without the necessity of taking an examination, under the provisions of the act. Since beginning operations, the Board has officially recommended 961 persons now certified under the provisions of this "grandfather" provision.

The Board administers tests to determine the qualifications of other persons applying for certification as provided for in Section 12 of the act. During 1983, it administered four examinations to 433 applicants. Of these, 180 successfully completed both portions of the test and were officially certified as shorthand reporters. During this same period the Board received two formal complaints.

At the time of this report, a total of 1,712 persons were certified as certified shorthand reporters and eligible to engage in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State.

Legislative Changes

The 68th Legislature adopted a number of amendments to article 2324b, effective September 1, 1983.

Among these amendments was a change of the name of the agency from the Texas Court Reporters Committee to the Court Reporters Certification Board, to more properly reflect its main area of responsibility.

In addition, the membership of the Board was expanded to twelve members from the previous nine. The additional three members were to be appointed by the Supreme Court from persons who are not judges, lawyers, court reporters, officers or employees of court reporting schools, or related to anyone in those groups within the second degree of affinity or consanguinity.

Under its previous disciplinary powers, provided by article 2324b, the Board was restricted to revocation of certification of a court reporter. The new amendments expanded the disciplinary powers to include suspension of certification or reprimand of a certified reporter.

In addition, the amendments provided for certification by one of three approved methods for shorthand reporting (machine shorthand, oral stenography, or written shorthand). Applicants are now required to successfully complete the examination by use of the method in which the applicant desires to be certified.

State Commission on Judicial Conduct

[Report prepared and submitted by Robert C. Flowers, Executive Director.]

Role of the Commission

The Texas Constitution was amended to provide for the establishment of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission in 1965. Since then, additional amendments have enhanced the efficacy of what is now known as the State Commission on Judicial Conduct. The Commission works to preserve the integrity of all judges in the State, to ensure public confidence in the judiciary, and to encourage judges to maintain high standards of both professional and personal conduct.

The Constitution identifies willful or persistent conduct which is inconsistent with the proper performance of judicial duties or which casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice as cause for the removal of a judge. Such conduct includes failure to execute the business of the court in a timely manner, considering the quantity and complexity of that business; willful violation of a provision of the Texas penal statutes or the Code of Judicial Conduct; persistent or willful violation of the rules promulgated by the Supreme Court of Texas; and incompetence in the performance of the duties of the office.

The Commission attempts to reduce the incidence of improper judicial conduct. It investigates complaints against judges, initiates formal proceedings against them, and takes appropriate disciplinary action. In rare instances, it may require a judge to undergo a physical or a mental examination. When necessary, the Commission makes recommendations to the Supreme Court for the suspension, removal, or retirement of a judge, because under present law only the Supreme Court has the authority to remove or order the retirement of a judge.

The Commission has no authority to act as an appellate court. It cannot set aside or otherwise change the judgment of any court. The Commission cannot consider allegations against a judge for making findings of fact, reaching a legal conclusion, or applying the law as he or she understands it. The granting of child custody, a judge's ruling on the admissibility of evidence, and a finding of guilty on a speeding charge are examples of matters for appellate review. Examples of the conduct the Commission will act upon include arrogant courtroom behavior, abuse of judicial discretion, intoxication on the bench, favoritism, conflict of interest, and refusal or failure to perform duties.

In addition to these responsibilities, the Commission plays an active role in the education of the judiciary. Staff members regularly make presentations at training seminars and conferences in an effort to assure that judges are aware of what constitutes proper and improper conduct. Also, in accordance with legislative mandates, the Commission works with judicial training organizations to assist in the ensurance that members of the judiciary comply with the law in receiving appropriate training.

Commission Procedure

The Commission is authorized by the Texas Constitution and operates under rules promulgated by the Supreme Court as well as laws passed by the Legislature.

A complaint may be introduced in any of several ways: an individual may contact the Commission by mail, by phone, or in person. The Commission may, on its own motion, decide to inquire into and investigate the conduct or physical or mental condition of a judge. Once a confidential inquiry indicates the complaint to be neither unfounded nor frivolous, the judge is notified of the complaint and given the opportunity to respond. The Commission makes an investigation to determine whether formal proceedings should be instituted and a hearing held. If the investigation does not disclose sufficient cause to warrant formal proceedings, a private or public reprimand may be issued by the Commission, and the investigation terminated. In accordance with the law, complainants are notified of the disposition of their complaints.

In many cases, the Commission decides the public and the judge would be best served if the judge would discuss the case with the commissioners. It has been a long-standing practice of the Commission to invite judges to informally appear before the Commission, with or without an attorney as the judge may elect, to discuss matters in issue. Such appearance enables the Commission to be more timely and more effective in disposing of cases by giving Commission members the best possible insight into the specifics of the case and the judge's response thereto; however, a provision in House Bill No. 44, passed by the Legislature and signed into law by the Governor last Session, states, "no hearing before the Commission shall be had during the investigatory stage." Accordingly, the Commission's practice of allowing informal appearances is under review.

Another option for informal action which is considered valuable by the Commission is the letter of admonition. The letter includes an explanation of why a particular action was inappropriate and an admonition not to repeat same in the future. As an informal action, the admonition is less severe than a reprimand. The cases which involve less serious problems or which can be resolved easily are brought to the Commission's attention through brief summaries on the Commission's "undocketed" agenda. More serious cases require detailed briefs and are presented to the Commission members as "agenda" items. Finally, if after an investigation has been completed the Commission concludes that formal proceedings should be instituted, the matter is entered into a formal docket.

The papers filed with and proceedings before the Commission are constitutionally and statutorily confidential prior to the convening of a formal hearing.

Once the Commission decides to institute formal proceedings, the judge and the complainant are notified and a hearing date is set. The hearing may be held before the Commission or before a master appointed by the Supreme Court. During the hearing, the judge has the right to be confronted by his accusers, to defend against the charges, and to be represented by counsel. After the hearing, the Commission may order public censure of the judge, or it may recommend to the Supreme Court censure, removal, or retirement of the judge. Pending resolution of a complaint, the Commission may recommend to the Supreme Court suspension with or without pay, or upon indictment by any court for a felony offense, the Commission may suspend a judge with or without pay.

In cases referred to the Supreme Court, the Court reviews the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence. The Court may order public censure, retirement, or removal, as it finds just and proper, or the Court may reject the recommendation. The Supreme Court may prohibit a judge who has been removed from ever holding judicial office in the future.

A proposed constitutional amendment, HJR 4, would alter the Supreme Court's role in this process. A review tribunal composed of seven justices or judges of the Courts of Appeals would hear cases involving the removal, retirement, or censure of a judge. Each Court of Appeals would designate one of its members for potential service, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court would select the members of the tribunal by lot. A justice, judge, master, or magistrate would be able to appeal a decision of the review tribunal to the Supreme Court under the substantial evidence rule.

A case which is dismissed is not necessarily one in which no action was taken. Many of the complaints counted in the "dismissals" category are instances where the issue was resolved. A judge may have written a letter of apology, decided to recuse himself from the case, or agreed to modify a particular practice to bring it in line with more accepted procedures. Remedial action was taken before the Commission decided to dismiss the matter.

Examples of Complaints and Conduct

Proper Conduct--An individual complained that a judge heard his case, declared him guilty, and then denied his request to take a defensive driving course. Attorney General's Opinion No. MW-428 states that once the trial proceedings have begun, the option to take the defensive driving course is no longer available to the defendant and the court may properly refuse a motion by the defendant to take the course. The complainant was advised that the judge had the right to decide his guilt or innocence and to deny his request for the defensive driving course because the defendant had not requested that right prior to the trial.

Proper Conduct--A judge refused to accept personal checks for child support payments which were ordered to be paid into the court registry. The complainant was advised that this was within the judge's discretion and did not constitute misconduct.

Complaint Resolved--A woman complained that she was experiencing difficulty in settling her late husband's estate because the judge repeatedly postponed the hearing. When the judge was contacted, he described his health problems which caused the delays. He evidenced great concern and indicated a sincere desire to rectify any harm. The judge offered to arrange a pre-trial hearing to decide on the issues to be resolved and to recuse himself if anyone felt he could not render a fair judgment. The complainant was notified of the judge's offers, and the matter was considered resolved.

Resolution of Controversial Conduct--Several justices of the peace were the objects of complaints alleging they refused to marry interracial couples. The Commission requested and received an Attorney General's Opinion on the subject. The opinion, No. JM-1, indicates that a justice of the peace may not refuse to conduct a marriage ceremony for the reason that the parties are not of the same race. Upon receiving assurances from the judges involved that they would comply with the opinion, the complaints were dismissed.

Improper Conduct--A judge openly and publicly made disparaging remarks about a district court judge. The district court judge was criticized for his conduct in the performance of his official duties in a matter which was within his jurisdiction. The Commission issued an admonition to the judge who had made the comments and requested a letter of apology be sent to the aggrieved party. The judge complied with this request and the matter was considered closed.

Improper Conduct--A judge conducted a hearing and sat in judgment on a matter in which he had a clear conflict of interest. In his private law practice, the judge had been retained to represent one of the parties in the matter. His improper conduct was accentuated by his categorical denial of having been retained as counsel, when he was confronted with the fact. The Commission condemned the conduct which it found to be willful and clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of duties, thus casting public discredit upon the judiciary and the administration of justice.

Possible Changes to be Considered

As required by House Bill No. 44, three areas of concern to the Commission are identified below:

1. Legislation may be required to clarify the Commission's authority to request a judge's appearance or to hold hearings prior to the initiation of formal proceedings. Appearances are important, because they enable the Commission to offer the protection of confidentiality to any judge desiring to appear informally to clarify issues. (See discussion under the heading "Procedure," above.)

2. Legislation may be required to clarify the Commission's jurisdiction over retired or former judges who return to the bench as visiting judges under the provisions of articles 200a or 1738, V.T.C.S.

3. Legislation may be in order to allow the Commission to advise the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judges of the Administrative Judicial Districts in any instances where a judge resigns or retires with the knowledge that a complaint and Commission proceedings thereon are pending.

Board of Law Examiners

[Report prepared and submitted by Wayne E. Denton, Executive Director.]

The Board of Law Examiners, pursuant to articles 304, 304a, 305, 305a, 305c, 306a, 307A, 307A-1, 307A-2, 307B, 308, 309, 310 and 3923, V.T.C.S., operates under the supervision of the Supreme Court of Texas and in accordance with the Rules Governing Admission to the Bar of Texas, as promulgated by the Supreme Court. The Board has five primary functions:

(1) to approve all applicants for license as to good moral character and fitness;

(2) to approve the law study of all applicants for license;

(3) to prepare and administer bar examinations designed to establish a minimum degree of competency for all persons recommended to the Supreme Court of Texas as being eligible to be licensed to practice law in the State of Texas, and, in certain circumstances, to provide applicants who fail the examination a written or oral analysis of their performance;

(4) to hear appeals by declarants from the refusal of any of the 17 District Committees on Admissions to grant the declarant a certificate of good moral character and fitness, said hearings being conducted with due process, with a transcript of the testimony being made by a court reporter; and

(5) to review and approve immigrant attorneys from sister states, the District of Columbia, and territories of the United States.

The staff of the Board of Law Examiners consists of an executive director and 12 staff members. The staff is organized into the Character and Fitness Division and the Eligibility and Examination Division. These divisions are the filing depositories for all Declarations of Intention to Study Law, Applications to Take the Bar Examination, and Applications for Admission to the Bar filed by immigrant attorneys.

The Character and Fitness Division administratively processes the Declarations of Intention to Study Law and performs an initial background investigation of each declarant. This division also assists the District Committees on Admissions in performing their investigations and in making their recommendations to the Board. In 1983, this division processed 2,294 Declarations of Intention to Study Law. It also performed investigations on bar examination applicants and attorney applicants from other jurisdictions. In 1983, there were 3,694 such investigations made.

The Eligibility and Examination Division answers all inquiries from potential applicants for admission to the Bar, administratively processes applications to take the bar examination and applications to be admitted as an immigrant attorney. Finally, this office records the grades on the bar examinations and releases such grades to the applicants. In 1983, this division processed 3,365 Applications to Take the Bar Examination and 329 Applications for Admission as an immigrant attorney.

At all swearing-in ceremonies of successful candidates by the Supreme Court of Texas, a member of the Board is present for the purpose of certifying the class to the Supreme Court.

The Board holds six regularly scheduled meetings and special called meetings annually. Two meetings are held in connection with each of the biannual bar examination dates (winter and summer). Approximately six weeks prior to the examination date, the Board meets to review proposed questions for the coming examination. Each Board member presents several questions in his or her area of expertise and the entire Board considers the content of each question, its timeliness, and the authorities supporting the answer. At each meeting, the Board may conduct hearings on moral character and fitness and consider matters of eligibility, questions relating to Texas residency, citizenship, and law study.

Additionally, the Board meets in April to confer with the deans of the eight Texas law schools and the Justices of the Supreme Court, as well as in November to meet with the Justices of the Supreme Court. Furthermore, the Board may conduct additional meetings to consider special matters relating to the conduct of the Board's business.

The bar examination begins on the last Wednesday of the months of February and July and is administered in six Texas cities: Austin, Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio and Waco.

The bar examination consists of two parts and a passing score of 75 must be made on each part. There are 14 subjects covered in the two parts. Part I of the examination covers 12 subjects spread out over two days of examination. The first day of testing is a six-hour multistate examination covering six subjects and consisting of 200 mulitiple choice questions. This examination is prepared by national committees and coordinated by the National Conference of Bar Examiners with the assistance of the American College of Testing of Iowa City, Iowa. The second day of testing is a six-hour essay type examination covering six subjects. These questions are developed by individual Board members and reviewed by the entire Board. The scores made on the first two days of examination are combined for a Part I score. Part II of the examination covers civil and criminal procedure and evidence and is given on the third day of testing. It is a three-hour examination requiring answers of the multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank, and short answer variety. An examinee must take the entire examination until Part I or Part II is passed. Thereafter, only the part not yet passed must be taken.

As of January 1, 1984, all applicants for admission to the Bar of Texas are required to take the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination and achieve a score of 75 to qualify for licensing.

State Prosecuting Attorney

[Report prepared and submitted by Robert Huttash and Marie Moore.]

Since 1875, various statutes have provided for an attorney to represent the State on appeal in criminal cases. In 1923, that attorney was named the "State Prosecuting Attorney" by art. 1811, V.T.C.S. Until September 1, 1981, it was the duty of the State Prosecuting Attorney "to represent the State in all proceedings before ... [the] Court [of Criminal Appeals]." On September 1, 1981, art. 1811 was amended, resulting in the following broad statutory objectives for the State's Attorney:

(1) represent the State in all proceedings before the Court of Criminal Appeals;

(2) represent the State in any stage of a criminal case before the Courts of Appeals when the interests of the State so require; and

(3) provide assistance to district and county attorneys in representing the State before the Courts of Appeals when requested to do so by the district or county attorney.

In order to adequately represent the State in all proceedings before the Court of Criminal Appeals, the State Prosecuting Attorney or his assistant is present during oral arguments. Copies of opinions are furnished to the Office by the Clerk of the Court and the decisions are reviewed to determine if error might exist which could adversely affect the State in future cases. If such error is found, then the State's Attorney may, on his own or in cooperation with the respective district or county attorney, file a motion for rehearing.

Before a decision is rendered, the State's Attorney may also file a brief, acting either for the Office or in cooperation with the district or county attorney.

Due to staff and budgetary restrictions, the State Prosecuting Attorney does not appear before the Courts of Appeals and does not file motions for rehearing in those courts. Arguments, briefs, and rehearings must be handled by the district or county attorneys or their staffs.

Opinions from all 14 Courts of Appeals are mailed to the State Prosecuting Attorney for review. Those which express an opinion contrary to that of the trial court are set aside for additional review after the opinion becomes the "final" decision of a Court of Appeals. In these cases, the State's Attorney may file a petition for discretionary review by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Because the Court of Criminal Appeals still is disposing of cases appealed directly from the trial courts, this Office, along with district and county attorneys, must deal with two distinct sets of time-calculation rules. Every time deadline is a critical one since failure to file a motion for rehearing in the Court of Criminal Appeals or a petition for discretionary review of a Court of Appeals decision will allow the decision to become case law which could adversely affect future cases. For this reason, the State Prosecuting Attorney attempts to work as closely as possible with the district and county attorneys so that all can assist in covering as many cases as possible to try ensure that the law will be expressed in the State's best interest.

Texas Adult Probation Commission

[Report prepared and submitted by Don R. Stiles, Executive Director.]

The Texas Adult Probation Commission was created in 1977 when the 65th Legislature added Section 42.121 to the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. The nine member Commission is appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas and the Presiding Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The primary functions of the Commission are establishing statewide standards for adult probation and the distribution of state aid to local adult probation departments in compliance with those standards.

State aid funding is divided into six categories: per capita, pre-sentence investigations, supplemental, special, intensive supervision probation, and restitution centers.

The per capita program is formula funding to the local departments for support of basic probation services. During fiscal year 1984, participating departments will receive 50 cents per day for each misdemeanor probationer and 75 cents per day for each felony probationer receiving direct services.

For each pre-sentence investigation report prepared following Commission standards and formats, the local departments can receive a subsidy of $65.

Supplemental funding is available to local departments unable to provide minimum probation services with the amount of per capita funding received.

Special program funds are available to support either specialized direct supervision caseloads (i.e., alcohol or drug abuse caseloads, mentally retarded offender caseloads, DWI or sex offender caseloads) or residential services for felony offenders (including departments contracting for treatment services, operating their own court residential treatment center, or providing emergency shelter when needed for probationers other than those in the intensive supervision probation program or in restitution centers).

The intensive supervision probation program is designed to divert felony offenders from the Texas Department of Corrections by having local adult probation departments establish a unit not to exceed a caseload of 40 probationers per officer. The departments receive funding on a formula basis of $5 per day, per intensive supervision probationer.

Funding for planning and implementing restitution centers is available to local departments through an application process. The restitution center program is another alternative created by the Legislature to divert non-violent felony offenders from the Department of Corrections.

The Commission audits the majority of all adult probation departments each year. The auditing is intended to determine if the departments are in compliance with fiscal requirements established by the Commission.

Approximately one-third of the adult probation departments are monitored each year. Each monitoring visit is followed by a technical assistance site visit as needed. This monitoring is intended to determine the level at which the departments are complying with Commission standards. If a department is not in compliance with a standard, an agreement is reached between the Commission and the department as to when the department will be coming into compliance and what type of assistance will be needed by the department to reach compliance.

The Commission has implemented a case classification system in approximately one-third of the adult probation departments. This system enables the probation officer to determine both the risks and needs of the probationer and thereby develop a more appropriate supervision plan. The case classification system also serves as a management information system enabling the Commission and the adult probation departments to know exactly the problems that probationers have and the degree to which these problems caused dysfunctioning. The commission plans to extend the case classification system to all adult probation departments in the State during the 1984-1985 biennium.

The Commission continued its repeat DWI offender project during 1983. The program, in effect in four local adult probation departments, has a probation officer experienced in working with alcoholic offenders carry a caseload of no more than 50 repeat DWI offenders. The project, financed through the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, will yield research on techniques using the specialized caseload approach with repeat DWI offenders.

The intensive supervision probation program entered its third year of operation. Thus far, 41 local adult probation departments with 102 units statewide have diverted more than 5,800 felony offenders from the Department of Corrections. The Commission expects to divert at least 8,400 persons from commitment to prison during the 1984-1985 biennium.

The restitution center program, started in September 1983, is modeled after similar projects in Georgia and Mississippi. The centers, to be developed by local adult probation departments, will house non-violent felony offenders for a period up to one year. During their residency, probationers will be required to work and repay their crime victims. Additionally, before being released and placed under intensive supervision, the residents are required to perform community service work for governmental or non-profit agencies, while also paying for room and board at the center.

The Commission funded the first restitution center in Texas when it made a grant award to the Tarrant County Adult Probation Department in late September 1983. The Commission has awarded planning or implementation funds to 11 other local adult probation departments. During fiscal year 1984, the Commission expects to assist in the establishment of ten restitution centers.

The Commission provides training throughout the State for adult probation officers. This training involves the following areas: case classification, client management classification,

Texas Juvenile Probation Commission

[Report prepared and submitted by Bill Anderson, Executive Director.]

The Texas Juvenile Probation Commission was created by the 67th Legislature for the purposes of:

(1) making probation services available throughout the State for juveniles;
(2) improving the effectiveness of probation services;
(3) providing alternatives to the commitment of juveniles by providing financial aid to juvenile boards for the establishment and improvement of probation services;
(4) establishing uniform probation administration standards; and
(5) improving communications between state and local entities within the juvenile justice system.

In the first area, the number of Texas counties without any juvenile services has been reduced from 18 on January 1, 1982, to one as of December 31, 1983. Negotiations are continuing, and it is expected that services will be provided in the remaining county.

In the area of improvement of services, the Commission has established a number of programs, including monitoring and technical assistance, training, provision of operating manuals and other publications, and a professional certification program. Legislation was passed during the 68th Session creating Juvenile Boards in every county in the State where there was no previous statutory authority.

A wide array of technical assistance has been provided to local departments, including help with budget control, community relations, legal advice, and operations. A training calendar has been established and training will be provided on a regional basis. The Commission has provided a probation officer's resource manual to each line officer in the State as well as juvenile court judges' manuals and form books, directories, and statistical reports. The certification program, tracking statutory requirements, has resulted in more than 1,110 persons applying for and receiving professional certificates.

The Commission's appropriation for fiscal years 1984-85 is designed to provide financial aid to all departments in the State that request funds and meet statutory requirements.

The establishment of uniform minimum standards has been an on-going priority of the Commission. A process that has involved much public testimony, advisory committee meetings, and other forms of input was culminated in August, 1983, in the publishing of the State's first set of juvenile probation standards of operation.

To meet the goal of improving communications, the Commission has established an advisory council made up of juvenile probation officers, juvenile judges, citizen members, and the executive director of the Texas Youth Council. This committee meets regularly with the executive director of the Commission.

State Bar of Texas

[Report prepared and submitted by Edward O. Coultas, Executive Director.]

The State Bar of Texas was created in 1939, pursuant to article 320a-1, V.T.C.S., as an administrative agency of the Supreme Court of Texas. The Bar operates under rules promulgated by the Supreme Court.

The State Bar serves 41,285 members, 37,338 of whom reside in Texas. Of that membership, 18,035 attorneys less than 37 years old (or licensed less than three years) are also members of the Texas Young Lawyers Association.

The State Bar is composed of 50 committees, 29 sections, and various departments. The departments of the Bar provide a variety of services, including an extensive continuing legal education program. This program, in addition to offering educational programs for all lawyers, aids less-experienced practitioners through skills courses to understand the more fundamental aspects of the practice of law.

Seminars and institutes are held throughout the State to help lawyers in specific areas of the law and to keep them abreast of new developments. In this regard, the Bar in 1983 offered eight advanced courses, attended by 3,204 persons; conducted seven practice skills courses, attended by 719 persons; sponsored six, one-day institutes, attended by 6,675 persons, and sponsored 12 institutes attended by 1,416 persons.

The State Bar also began a "Saturday Morning in Court" program modeled after the Houston Bar Association's program. The program was conducted in three cities with 462 persons in attendance. The use of video equipment and facilities of the Texas Law Center to produce videotapes of seminars and institutes makes these educational programs available to lawyers and the public throughout the State.

The Bar also prepares and distributes manuals, books, and audio tape cassettes dealing with various fields of legal practice. There were 3,413 sets of audio tapes sold and 24,336 people viewed videotapes during the year.

Other services of the State Bar include publications of current legal information. The "Texas Lawyers Civil Digest" and "Texas Lawyers Criminal Digest" give attorneys and judges a weekly summary of significant decisions of the various state and federal courts, Attorney General opinions, and administrative decisions of the Comptroller.

The Texas Bar Journal is published and distributed monthly to attorneys and to students attending the eight law schools in Texas. Articles dealing with specific areas of law, results of disciplinary actions, proceedings of the board of directors, and other topics of interest are included in the Journal.

The general counsel of the State Bar is responsible for enforcing disciplinary rules and protecting citizens from the unauthorized practice of law. Disciplinary actions taken by the 42 district grievance committees from January through December 1983 resulted in: 14 disbarments; 11 resignations; 31 suspensions; 36 public reprimands; 43 private reprimands; and 3 reinstatements of attorneys.

One of the key programs of the State Bar is the Lawyer Referral Service, which receives about 2,000 calls per month. These calls come from people in need of legal services who do not have an attorney. The referral service provides information on the availability of legal assistance and aids the public in obtaining this assistance. The Bar also sponsors a Prepaid Legal Services program which makes legal assistance available to policy holders at an affordable price.

The Texas Lawyers Care program, in existence for slightly over one year, is sponsored jointly by the State Bar and the 11 federally-funded legal services programs in the State. Texas Lawyers Care is designed to help local legal services programs, the judiciary, and community-based human service agencies in developing and implementing volunteer lawyer programs which provide civil legal assistance to low-income clients.

The State Bar created a new department in 1983, the Office of Law-Related Education. The office will help to coordinate the efforts of the State Bar in bringing legal education to citizens as well as students. The office will also be in charge of helping to explain and promote the law-related education materials available through the Bar, including "Law in a Changing Society," a curriculum program created by the Bar in 1975.

The State Bar's Insurance Trust sponsors an insurance program for lawyers. Types of coverage offered include group life, individual life and disability, major medical, accidental death and dismemberment, hospitalization and indemnity, major medical, professional liability, and Keogh retirement plans.

Many programs of the Bar are sponsored by the Texas Bar Foundation. Established in 1965, the Foundation finances programs in continuing legal education and research on legal matters of significance to the Bar and the public. Grants awarded by the Foundation funded such projects as public service handbooks printed by the Texas Young Lawyers Association; a legal checklist created by the Military Law Section of the Bar; and the "Crack the Shell" program, which acquaints citizens with public service materials offered by the Bar. The Foundation also will fund the upcoming Bar Leadership Conference.

In May of 1984, the State Bar, along with the Texas Young Lawyers Association, the University of Texas College of Education, the Department of Communication of the State Bar, and the Office of Law-Related Education, will sponsor the Leon Jaworski Memorial Conference. The conference, which will focus on education and the law, is designed to provide a memorial to Mr. Jaworski which exemplifies his dedication to the law in a democratic society and his concern for law-related education in the schools.

The Legal Specialization program of the Bar provides a means for certifying attorneys with special competence in selected fields of law. Initially, certification was offered in only criminal law, family law, and labor law. Since the program's inception in 1975, seven additional fields have been added: estate planning and probate; civil trial law; personal injury trial law; immigration and nationality law; real estate law; tax law; and consumer bankruptcy law.

The Communications department conducts such education-oriented programs as the "Ask a Lawyer" radio series, "You and the Law" newspaper column, the Speakers Bureau, "The Living Law" multimedia slide show, the Careers videotape on the legal profession, and the film loan program featuring the films "Our Uncommon Law" and "Liberty and Justice for All."

Judicial Section, State Bar of Texas

[Report prepared and submitted by Hon. William J. Cornelius, Chairman.]

The Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas is an autonomous organization composed of the appellate, district, county court at law, and lawyer county judges of Texas. The Section meets annually at a state-wide Judicial Conference on call of the Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court. In addition, the Section works through its committees and other organizations throughout the year to improve the administration of justice and to present a continuing program of judicial education for all Texas judges.

The work of the Section in judicial education is primarily conducted by the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., a non-profit corporation organized by the Judicial Section for the purpose of receiving and expending funds for judicial education. The Center, through its Texas Judicial College, plans, coordinates, and presents an annual Texas College for New Judges and five regional judicial conferences for all judges.

The College for New Judges is a week-long, intensive school designed to educate new judges in procedures, court administration, judicial ethics, and substantive law. The faculty is composed of experienced Texas judges who prepare and present detailed papers on their subjects. A bench book containing the papers is presented to each new judge for permanent use.

The five regional judicial conferences are held in strategic locations in Texas so all judges can attend without extensive travel. The conferences last approximately two days, and are devoted to study of new legislation, new developments in substantive law and procedure, and technological advances affecting the courts. The faculty for these conferences is composed of experienced judges and law teachers.

The College for New Judges and the regional judicial conferences are under the direction of the Dean of the Texas Judicial College, Justice Richard Countiss of the Amarillo Court of Appeals, and five Associate Deans: Judge Sam Houston of Denton, Judge Jack R. Blackmon of Corpus Christi, Judge Robert C. Wright of Lubbock, Judge Peter Solito of Houston, and Justice Annette Stewart of Dallas, as well as the staff of the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc.

In addition to these educational programs, the Texas Center plans and conducts several other conferences throughout the year, including the annual Criminal Justice Conference at Huntsville, the Court Management Seminar, the Juvenile Justice Seminar, Appellate Judge Writing Schools, Court Clerk Conferences, and Briefing Attorney Seminars. The Center will also present an educational seminar for Constitutional County Judges, both lawyer and non-lawyer. The educational programs of the Center will be accredited by the Supreme Court Education Committee for credit toward the judicial education requirements now mandated by the Legislature for all judges. Funds for operation of the Texas Center are now provided by grants from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. In addition, the Center maintains a capital account composed of private donations which, hopefully, will earn sufficient income to supplement the Center's other funds.

The other work of the Judicial Section is conducted through its standing and special committees. They are: Committee on Educational Standards, Legislative Committee, Committee on Judicial Ethics, Committee on Judicial Retirement and Benefits, Juvenile Justice Committee, Site Selection Committee for the Annual Judicial Conference, Committee on the Relation Between the Section and the Texas Center, and Audit Committee. The members of the Section pay annual dues of $25 which is kept and used separately by the Section to pay expenses of officers and committee members, and to supplement registration fees for the annual Judicial Conference.

ADVISORY OPINIONS ON JUDICIAL ETHICS
Rendered During 1983

At the request of the members of the Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas, the Supreme Court promulgated a Code of Judicial Conduct, effective September 1, 1974. On November 9, 1976, responding to a resolution of the Judicial Section, certain amendments to the Code were adopted.

The Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas has appointed a Committee on Judicial Ethics to render advisory opinions on the Code of Judicial Conduct. The opinions of this Committee that were handed down during 1983 are reproduced below.

OPINION NO. 65

Question: May a judge serve as member of a board of a State agency created by the Legislature, which appointment requires appointment by the Governor and confirmation by the Senate, where the responsibilities are non-judicial and there is no compensation except reimbursement for expenses?

Answer: Canon 5G of the Code of Judicial Conduct states as follows:

> A judge should not accept appointment to a governmental committee, commission, or other position that is concerned with issues of fact or policy on matters other than the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice. A judge, however, may represent his country, state, or locality on ceremonial occasions or in connection with historical, educational, and cultural activities.

The Committee is of the opinion that a judge may not accept an appointment to a state board concerned with non-judicial matters, unless the function of that board is limited to historical, educational, or cultural activities.

The Committee is of the further opinion that a judge should regulate his extra-judicial activities to minimize the risk of conflict with his judicial duties, keeping in mind that an independent judiciary is indispensable to justice in our society.

The Committee notes that the stated question raises the issue of separation of powers which deserves consideration, but such issue is not within the scope of the Committee's function.

OPINION NO. 66

Question: May a judge participate with law enforcement officers in the development and preparation of a program designed to inform law enforcement officers concerning possible pitfalls during cross-examination. The program would be sold to law enforcement agencies, but the title of "Judge" would not be used in connection with the program?

Answer: Several sections of the Code of Judicial Conduct speak to the problem. Canon 4A states:

> [A judge] may speak, write, lecture, teach, and participate in other activities concerning law, the legal system, and the administration of justice.

Canon 5C (1) states:

> A judge should refrain from financial and business dealings that tend to reflect adversely on his impartiality, interfere with the proper performance of his judicial duties, exploit his judicial position, or involve him in frequent transactions with lawyers or persons likely to come before the court on which he serves.

Canon 6 states:

> A judge may receive compensation and reimbursement of expenses for the quasi-judicial and extra-judicial activities permitted by this Code, if the source of such payments does not give the appearance of impropriety.

The Committee is of the opinion that the Code of Judicial Conduct encourages a judge to write, lecture and teach on matters concerning law, the legal system, and the administration of justice. However, the program described in the question has the appearance of advocating particular results in certain kinds of cases and, as such, reflects adversely on the judge's appearance of impartiality.

OPINION NO. 67

Question: May a judge use his official letterhead (or a reproduction of that letterhead) to invite members of a fraternal organization, who live in the jurisdiction of his local organization, but have their membership elsewhere, to transfer their membership to the local organization?

Answer: Canon 2B of the Code of Judicial Conduct in part states: "... [a judge] should not lend the prestige of his office to advance the private interests of others ..."

The use of his official letterhead by a judge to invite or solicit transfer of membership in a fraternal organization appears to lend the prestige of the judge's office to assist his fraternity and is violative of Canon 2B.

OPINION NO. 68

Question: Would judges who participate in a central jury system violate the Code of Judicial Conduct by sending a form letter expressing their appreciation to those persons who reported for jury duty, including those not selected as jurors? The letterhead would contain all the names of the judges in the system and the names of the District and County clerks. Costs would be borne by the county?

Answer: Your Ethics Committee is of the opinion that if the contents of the letter is a genuine expression of appreciation, the letter is mailed routinely when the panel is discharged, and the signatory privileges are rotated regularly, that such a letter would be appropriate.

Canon 3A(3) requires a judge to be courteous to jurors. Canon 2 requires that a judge avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety in all of his activities, and Canon 7A requires that any candidate for judicial office, including an incumbent judge, should refrain from conduct which might tend to arouse reasonable belief that he is using the power or prestige of his judicial position to promote his own candidacy. If the content and timing of mailing the letter of appreciation meet the criteria of these three canons the letter would be appropriate.

The Committee sees no impropriety in the county bearing the costs of such a letter, if the costs do not become prohibitive. Consideration might be given to attaching such a letter to each panel member's check when mailed.

OPINION NO. 69

Question: May a judge ethically write letters of appreciation to persons who have served as jurors in his court?

Answer: Yes. However, the Committee is of the opinion that the judge should avoid the appearance of impropriety in selecting the content of the letter. The judge should also mail the letter immediately after the service has been rendered on a routine basis. See Canons 2, 3A(3) and 7A.

The Committee is aware that judges throughout the State are continually making speeches wherein they are stressing the importance of the jury system and urging that all persons report when summoned for jury duty. Thus, for a judge to say "thank you," to those who have given of themselves and their time by serving as jurors, appears to be logical and appropriate.

OPINION NO. 70*

Questions: (1) Would a judge be in violation of any section of the Code of Judicial Conduct by serving as an organizer of a new bank?

(2) Would a judge be in violation of the Code of Judicial Conduct if the judge's spouse serves as a director on the board of a publicly owned corporation?

(In each of the above situations, neither the judge nor spouse would trade on or emphasize the fact of the judge's position as a judicial officer.)

Answer to Question 1: The Committee is of the opinion that the Code of Judicial Conduct does not specifically prohibit a judge from serving as an organizer of a new bank. Canon 5C(2) permits a judge to hold and manage investments and engage in other remunerative activities, including the operation of a business.

When making such an investment, however, the judge must comply with paragraph C(1) of Canon 5, which requires a judge to refrain from financial or business dealings that tend to reflect adversely on his impartiality, interfere with the proper performance of his judicial duties, exploit his judicial position or involve him in frequent transactions with lawyers or other persons likely to come before the court on which he serves. In his business dealings, the judge must also comply with Canon 5C(3) which requires him to divest himself of interests that might require frequent disqualification (see Canon 3C) and Canon 2B, which prohibits him from lending the prestige of his office to advance the private interest of others.

Subject to the stated conditions, the investment in question is permissible under the Code.

Answer to Question 2: The Committee is of the opinion that the Code of Judicial Conduct does not prohibit a judge's spouse from serving as a director on the board of a publicly owned corporation. The Committee suggests, however, that a wife should serve under her own name. The judge is disqualified in any proceeding involving the company. [Canon 3C(1)(c).]

OPINION NO. 71

Question: May a judge serve on the Institutional Review Board of the Mexia State School?

Facts: The Mexia State School is a state eleemosynary institution. Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. Ann. art. 3263c (Vernon 1968). The Institutional Review Board, appointed by the superintendent of the school, is responsible generally for reviewing and overseeing research at the school.

Answer: The Committee is of the opinion that service on the Mexia State School Institutional Review Board would violate the Code of Judicial Conduct. Canon 5G restricts a judge's service on governmental boards by providing that a judge should not accept appointment to a governmental committee, commission or other position that is concerned with issues of fact or policy on matters other than the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice.

OPINION NO. 72

Questions: (1) Can a judge place an advertisement in the personals section of the newspaper classified ads to inform the public that he will perform marriages? The ad would read either "Weddings by Judge - home phone number," or "Weddings Performed - home phone number."

(2) Can a judge charge a fee to perform a wedding? Does the location of the wedding matter as to whether there can be a fee, i.e., in chambers vs. a house call or other private place?

Answer: The Committee is of the opinion that a judge who advertises the performance of weddings and charges fees for weddings violates the Code of Judicial Conduct. Section 1.83 of the Family Code (Vernon Supp. 1982) authorizes a judge to perform weddings. To advertise and charge fees for a service the judge can perform only because of his judicial office violates Canon 5C(1) which requires a judge to refrain from financial dealings that exploit his judicial position.

AUTOMATION FOR THE TEXAS APPELLATE SYSTEM

Law more than many human endeavors owes its prominence to language and written record. Law was elevated above taboo, folkway, and arbitrary decree with the advent of the Hammurabic Code. Justice per se became attainable, if not certain, with the codification of law. Litigation came into general practice when there were writings to support the assertions of the opposing parties.

Courts were established as an adjunct to ruling authorities and lawmakers. Judges were appointed to administer justice and were expected in theory at least to render impartial decisions based on evidence. Trials were conducted according to certain rules. Juries were selected according to certain criteria.

As the notion of precedent became entrenched, the need for trial records, dockets, and abstracts became apparent. All of these had to be stored somewhere. To save space, scrolls previously stored in roll form were unrolled and laid flat. Someone invented file folders and the file cabinet. Documents accumulated and so did legal-size file cabinets. By the mid-20th century, space for all this paper became a serious problem. Leased storage grew prohibitively expensive. Library construction costs skyrocketed. The mountains of paper became difficult to manage. Hiring clerical personnel sufficient to the growing tasks of moving, indexing, filing, and retrieving the stored information grew less and less economically viable. Means had to be found to manipulate the vast body of writs, orders, and evidence, and to do so at least as efficiently as in the more leisurely days before the legal storehouse grew so large.

Cumbersome mechanical computing devices had appeared in the late 19th century. At best they were big adding machines; at worst they were horrible corruptions of the abacus. But in the early 1950s, electronic computers were developed that could store, retrieve, and process data in sufficient quantity and at sufficient speed to justify their employment in scientific and research capacities. Since at least one tube or relay was required in a single switch assembly, and since even small single-digit numbers required more than one switch to represent them in the binary logic of the machine, the early computers of necessity were quite large. Huge rooms were given over to single machines whose capabilities were relatively small. Data was input in ticker-tape fashion. Paper tape was punched with patterns of holes that symbolized numbers. Output took the same form.

But advances in computing came rapidly. Transistors replaced vacuum tubes, thereby shrinking the machines from the size of great halls to the size of closets. Data came to be stored on magnetic tape, which could be used repeatedly. "Languages" were developed that the machines could be programmed to "understand." Distant computers were linked by telephone lines carrying data in the form of audible tones. Best of all, with these technological breakthroughs, the cost of automation dropped drastically until today, it is economically feasible for even the smallest court systems.

Jurisdictional Change in the Courts

In Texas, the catalyst for automation of state courts was the 1980 adoption of Senate Joint Resolution 36, which conferred intermediate criminal appellate jurisdiction on the 14 Courts of Civil Appeals.

The object of granting intermediate criminal appellate jurisdiction to the Courts of Appeals was to relieve the backlog of criminal appeals that had developed in the 1970s. As this transfer of jurisdiction would take place in short order, unless the Courts of Appeals took immediate steps to enhance their ability to process the transferred cases and increased filings, the transfer of jurisdiction would only have the effect of moving a growing backlog from one location to another.

The Chief Justices of the Courts of Appeals met to consider the problem in November, 1980. Not only did the Courts of Appeals need to institute new standard procedures -- they had to do so immediately. Because of the anticipated increase in case volume, the new procedures had to be highly refined and extremely efficient. Automation was peculiarly the means to this end. Computing equipment does best what is repetitive and routine but what must be done with great care. Tracking cases through the courts and notifying opposing parties of case milestones, while important, is primarily repetitive in nature. Without a carefully planned system, cases slipped through the cracks, got lost on a desk. An automated case management system reduces the task of docket management and the mailing of notifications.

The issue of state-wide court automation really had never come up before in Texas, at least not formally. Now, faced with case filings anticipated to be three or four times their 1979 level and the prospect of assuming criminal jurisdiction when previously the courts had jurisdiction over only civil matters, most of the appellate courts were persuaded of the efficacy of court automation. The acquisition of automated word and data processing equipment was identified as critical. The Texas Office of Court Administration was asked to study the capabilities of available automated systems and to match those systems with the particular needs of the Courts of Appeals. Two committees were appointed, one of judges and the other of clerks of the Courts of Appeals, to work with the Office of Court Administration in developing specific recommendations.

Automation Applied to Appellate Courts

Texas has 16 appellate courts, two with state-wide jurisdiction and 14 with regional jurisdiction. Two of the 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals share the same geographical jurisdiction, while the jurisdiction of six of the courts overlap in certain counties. The courts range in size from three justices to 13. In 1981, the busiest court recorded 1,262 cases filed while the least busy docketed 133 new cases. The state is nearly 800 miles across. Its population is largely urban, but the urban areas are separated by wide expanses of sparsely-populated territory. The unique court structure and unusual geographic and population characteristics presented a very difficult design problem for the committees and the Office of Court Administration.

The automation needs of the individual appellate courts were disparate, and each court wished to maintain the integrity of its own data. On the other hand, the courts could not afford to hire and maintain 14 programming staffs, and they did desire the ability to correspond by data lines with other courts.

The solution? (1) Install compatible mini-computers in each of the courts, and (2) use a single programming and operations staff to develop standard adaptable software and oversee system installation and maintenance.

Five areas of need were identified as common to all of the courts: (1) records management; (2) word processing; (3) printing; (4) arithmetic capabilities; and (5) communication abilities. An evaluation instrument using these five criteria was developed, allowing easy system to system comparison.

In addition, any equipment considered had to be sufficiently "user friendly" so that the current personnel of the courts could be trained to properly use the equipment with the least disruption in their ongoing duties.

With Courts of Appeals in 13 different Texas cities, it was necessary to determine the service and maintenance capabilities of each system for each court. Service and maintenance abilities as well as response times were then compared from system to system, city by city.

The cost of the system was obviously a critical factor in the evaluation process. The original cost of the equipment, however, was only one of the costs to be considered. Again an evaluation instrument was developed allowing easy system to system comparison. The cost factors considered were: (1) types of training necessary; (2) length of training; (3) number of personnel trained at no cost; (4) cost of training per individual; (5) location of training; (6) initial purchase price; and (7) annual maintenance estimate.

A detailed search was undertaken to identify all available equipment which would have the capacity to meet these criteria. Twelve vendors were identified and sent a general questionnaire concerning the capabilities of their mini-computer equipment. An analysis of the returned questionnaires and a review of all other data provided by these vendors was made by the staff of the Office of Court Administration. The equipment of eight of these vendors appeared to provide at least some of the necessary capabilities. These vendors were invited to demonstrate the capabilities of their equipment.

As a result of these evaluations and initial demonstrations, two of the vendors were requested to make a more complete demonstration of the capabilities of their equipment to the judges' and clerks' committees. After these demonstrations were concluded the two committees selected a system that best met the identified needs of the Courts of Appeals. Nine of the 14 Courts of Appeals -- Houston (1st and 14th), Fort Worth (2nd), San Antonio (4th), Dallas (5th), Amarillo (7th), El Paso (8th), Beaumont (9th), and Corpus Christi (13th) -- elected to buy the compatible equipment and the state Office of Court Administration purchased the same type of equipment to enable it to develop the necessary software program for this equipment. Since this initial purchase and installation, three additional Courts of Appeals, -- Tyler (12th), Eastland (11th), and Texarkana (6th) -- as well as the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals have purchased compatible systems.

One of the main reasons for the purchase of compatible equipment was to allow the development of the necessary software programs by a central office for all of the courts, thus ensuring the most efficient use of taxpayers' dollars. Indeed a report by the National Center for State Courts, on the installation of this system, indicated that this method of operation resulted in a savings of over one million dollars in the initial phase of the program alone.

The first priority in the automation of the Texas courts was installation of a case management system. Before the software for the case management system could be written, however, a manual version useful to all of the courts had to be created. With technical assistance from the Office of Court Administration, the clerks' committee developed such a manual system. The programming staff of the Office of Court Administration then modeled the Case Management software after the predecessor manual system. Installation of the automated case management system was complete in the initial nine courts.

In addition to the case management system, an accounting system has been developed, tested and installed in each court having compatible equipment. This system automatically prepares and posts all vouchers for each individual court. It is designed to prepare the more than 60 different reports which each court must submit on an annual basis to various state and federal agencies. It also provides the capability of obtaining current account balances and allows easy, automatic access to deposit and expenditure records. This in turn can be used to facilitate the preparation of current financial records and budgeting reports to enable the Chief Justice or Presiding Judge of each court to make the managerial decisions necessary for the proper operation of his court. The automated payroll system is designed to prepare the monthly and supplemental payroll reports as well as the federal income tax and social security reports and many other required reports. In addition an automated system to maintain the inventory of capital items for each court has been developed.

Because of the unique needs of the Texas appellate courts, it was determined that all programs for the accounting payroll and case management system could best be developed by in-house personnel. The two programmers employed by the state Office of Court Administration have written, tested, installed, and modified these programs. The system installed in each court has the capability of transmitting information from one location to another having compatible equipment, either by electronic means or by the use of floppy disks. While each of the automated systems was designed as a standard system, the software developed has been modified to suit the unique needs of the individual courts.

The case management, accounting, and payroll systems, and other programs currently under development, will be readily available to additional courts as they acquire compatible equipment. As different needs of the courts develop, the Office of Court Administration will be able to provide technical assistance in the creation of new programming, as well as to modify existing systems and assist with the training of court personnel.

As a result of the common needs assessment by the appellate courts, and because of the compatibility of equipment chosen, cooperative planning involving all of the courts was feasible. Automated systems for case management, accounting, and payroll management, and other programs specifically designed for the appellate courts, have been successfully installed. Future savings can be anticipated as the remaining appellate courts acquire compatible equipment to utilize the various software programs now operating in the system and as these programs are adapted for use by the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The software programs developed by the Office of Court Administration for use in the Texas appellate courts are organized as three systems of programs that perform related tasks: case management, accounting, and payroll management. In common, the three systems are screen-driven and password-protected. This approach allows the systems to be used by court personnel with minimal training while protecting the data entered from unauthorized use.

User reference manuals for each of the three systems are presently being developed and will be made available by the Office of Court Administration as they are completed.

A summary of the principal functions and characteristics of the automated systems, and a listing of the programs that make up each system are included in the following text.

CASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

The Case Management System was developed by a committee of Clerks of the Courts of Appeals, with technical assistance from the Office of Court Administration, to enable the courts to cope with the expanded caseload that came with criminal jurisdiction.

Its principal functions are: (1) to store and maintain historical, biographical, and docket information on each case; (2) to sort and assemble the case records into summaries, reports, indexes, calendars, and other reports necessary to the courts, and; (3) to track each event within the cases and the progress of the cases themselves. The programs that constitute the Case Management System include:

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM

The automated Accounting System was designed to automate the existing state accounting practices and procedures, using the most current state forms in all areas of accounting and business practice procedures.

The system is password protected. No programs can be run without the proper password. Each program has a different password and each password may be linked to the initials of the maximum of ten employees. Thus access to programs can be limited to specific employees.

The system is screen driven. When a program is executed, the password screen is displayed. After the password is validated, a screen displaying the date appears. If the date is correct, the program screen is displayed. The data is filled in and edited, and the operator can instruct the machine to put the data in a print file to be printed after all the vouchers are entered. At the same time, the accounting transactions are posted to the accounts that the voucher affected. After the program is exited, the accounts can be checked to see how much money has been spent or received by account. At the end of the month, the transactions for the month are run against the beginning balances and compared with the account balances that are posted on a transaction basis.

Specific programs in the automated Accounting System include:

I. Programs To Prepare Vouchers
  A. Purchase Vouchers
  B. Travel Vouchers
  C. Payroll Vouchers
  D. Deposit Vouchers
  E. Journal Vouchers

II. Programs To Run the Accounting Journals and General Ledger

  E. To change the next voucher number on a purchase, travel, or payroll voucher
  F. To calculate the check digit for new vendor identification numbers
  G. To run a "temporary voucher register" for all vouchers prepared but sent for signature and assigned a temporary number
  H. To renumber the temporary vouchers with regular voucher numbers after it has been signed and is ready to be entered into the accounting system

  A. To update all passwords
  B. To print a list of all passwords

PAYROLL SYSTEM

The Payroll System was developed to prepare the payroll and related reports by the use of automated equipment. The system was designed around the existing State of Texas manual payroll forms.

The payroll system is password protected. Separate passwords are required for updating payroll information and for reporting payroll information. The clerks of the courts have control over the password system and may change passwords at any time.

The payroll system is designed to enable changes to be made to variable salary rate tables without changing the programs.

As basic payroll information for each employee changes during the year, it can be updated and new payroll figures for that employee are calculated and displayed. As the payroll detail forms are produced, employee data is recorded by the system to produce monthly, quarterly, and annual reports, as well as for internal court reports. Changes which occur during the month can be immediately entered into the system.

The payroll system has the following capabilities:

I. Calculate employee payroll based on information that is loaded into the system upon installation and updated on a continuing basis

II. Track number of months employee has worked for the State and keep track of annual, sick, and compensatory leave for the employee

III. Prepare the payroll detail sheets from which employees are paid

IV. Prepare and post the payroll voucher to the proper accounts in the accounting system

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Regarding appellate courts, temporary emergencies such as illness of a judge or unusually burdensome cases may distort the statistical picture. In addition, there is no reliable way to ascertain the time spent by appellate or trial judges in study or research in the composing of their opinions and decisions.

At least four factors are not represented in the district court statistics presented and should be borne in mind when evaluating judicial output:

1. One very complicated case may consume an inordinate amount of time compared to less complicated cases.
2. The judges of district courts in most non-metropolitan areas spend more time traveling between different counties comprising a single district than do their metropolitan counterparts, and a metropolitan complex of many judges of identical jurisdiction permits judicial efficiencies not available in non-metropolitan areas.
3. Judges have to spend many hours on administrative matters and other judicial functions not reported in this statistical report, e.g., preparing and submitting the necessary budget requests for the operation of the court to the county commissioners, impaneling grand juries, petit jury requirements, juvenile board duties and responsibilities, and many other matters.
4. In lieu of a conviction and sentence, present statutes authorize a judge to place defendants on "deferred adjudication" and to impose conditions similar to those of regular probation. A case in which deferred adjudication is granted remains on the docket as a pending case and does not appear as a disposition in court statistics until the defendant has completed all conditions of deferred adjudication and the case is dismissed, or the defendant is sentenced upon failure to comply with the conditions imposed, even though it requires both time and resources of the court.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

For the past few years, there has been 100% reporting from the district and county clerks regarding the activity in the district and county courts of Texas. This has not yet been true, however, regarding justice of the peace and municipal courts. For this reason, it is important to note that reported totals for justice of the peace and municipal courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts.

One final caution: because of the large number of courts in Texas and the huge volume of court activity, reporting errors are bound to occur. The staff of the Texas Judicial Council and the clerks of court work closely to keep such reporting errors to a minimum. When errors are found after publication of an Annual Report, adjustments are made in pending case figures at the beginning of the following year.

TEXAS COURTS
Overview of 1983 Activity

Appellate Courts

The Texas appellate courts in 1983 achieved a manageable equilibrium in the docketing and disposition of cases, clearing a seven-year backlog of criminal appeals but remaining current with new filings.

In September 1981, the 14 Courts of Appeals acquired jurisdiction of intermediate criminal appeals, a measure intended to relieve the severely over-burdened Court of Criminal Appeals.

From 1974 to 1980--when original criminal appeals were heard exclusively by the single Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin--the backlog in criminal appeals grew at an average annual rate of 45 percent.

In 1982, the first full year of intermediate criminal appellate jursidiction in Texas, the growth in the pending criminal case backlog was slowed to an annual rate of 7.1 percent.

In 1983, pending original criminal appeals decreased 21.2 percent, while pending civil appeals rose only slightly.

The Texas Supreme Court, not affected by the transfer of jurisdiction, maintained a rate of disposition consistent with and slightly above its pace of recent years, but delivered 125 deciding opinions, up 17 percent from 1982. Each justice wrote an average of 19 opinions in 1983, also up slightly from the previous year.

The Court of Criminal Appeals disposed of 70 percent of the cases filed in 1983 or carried over from the previous year. The rate of disposition was up from 52 percent in 1982 and 35 percent in 1981. In January 1982, 2,471 cases were pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. At the end of 1983, only 555 cases remained undisposed.

The Courts of Appeals reduced by 900 the number of criminal appeals pending on their dockets. On the average, each justice disposed of 65 criminal cases and 38 civil cases. In 1983, criminal appeals filings decreased by 12 percent, while civil filings increased 9 percent.

Origin of Appeals

Of all cases filed in the Courts of Appeals, 34 percent of civil appeals and 44 percent of criminal appeals had been tried originally in the district and county courts of Dallas and Harris counties.

Dallas and Harris County cases comprised 29 percent of the applications for writs of error filed in the Supreme Court. Fourty-eight percent of the petitions for discretionary review received in the Court of Criminal Appeals were from the two most populous counties.

Twenty-eight percent of the state population lived in Dallas and Harris counties (1980 Census).

Fifty-one percent of the 1980 Texas population lived in the eight most populous counties of the State (Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, Travis, Hidalgo, and Nueces).

Of all cases filed in the Courts of Appeals, 56 percent of civil appeals and 62 percent of criminal appeals originated in the trial courts of the eight counties.

Only a small percentage of criminal convictions and civil decisions were appealed statewide. However, a significantly higher percentage of criminal convictions were appealed from the courts of the eight most populous counties than from the trial courts of other counties. In 1983, 1.83 percent of the criminal convictions in the counties named above were appealed to the Courts of Appeals, compared to 1.22 percent in the other counties. The rate of convictions appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals from the eight counties differs more starkly from the smaller-county rate: .612 percent vs. .295 percent, or more than twice the lower level.

Statewide, 23.37 percent of criminal appeals rendered by the Courts of Appeals were appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals. Similarly, 22.29 percent of civil appeals were appealed to the Supreme Court.

Trial Courts

During 1983, the district courts disposed of 43.3 percent of the total number of cases on their dockets -- compared to 42.9 percent during 1982 - while experiencing a 0.7 percent increase in new cases filed. The ten most urban counties had an increase of 3.1 percent of new cases, while all other counties had a 1.8 percent drop. An average of 1,255 cases per judge were disposed of in 1983, an increase of 2.7 percent over the disposition rate in 1982 of 1,222 per judge.

Thirty-three death sentences (compared to 32 in 1982) and 343 life sentences were assessed in the district courts during 1983.

District courts handled 0.4 percent fewer divorce actions in 1983 than in 1982. In 1983, 137,962 divorces were disposed of--31.2 percent of all cases handled by district courts.

The total number of cases pending in the district courts at the end of 1983--588,952--was 5.8 percent higher than the 556,787 pending at the end of 1982. Criminal cases pending increased by 8.7 percent while civil cases pending at the end of 1983 were up 5.3 percent.

In the county courts, driving while intoxicated (DWI) and driving under the influence of drugs (DUID) cases constituted 32.4 percent of criminal cases docketed in 1983. Criminal cases accounted for three-quarters of new cases filed or appealed from lower courts.

The justice of the peace courts disposed of 81 percent of more than 2 million cases filed; municipal courts disposed of 80 percent of nearly 6.5 million cases filed. Three-quarters of all cases filed in justice of the peace courts and 91 percent of municipal court filings were traffic cases. Justice of the peace courts collected $59 million in revenues in 1983. Municipal court revenues totalled $128 million.

SUPREME COURT

Analysis of 1983 Activity

The Supreme Court of Texas is the highest state court for civil appeals and promulgates the rules of civil procedure for the courts of Texas. It is composed of the Chief Justice and eight justices.

The number of applications for writs of error filed in the Supreme Court during 1983 decreased from 1982. A total of 703 applications were filed, compared to 765 in 1982--a decrease of 8 percent, and 7 percent less than the ten-year average of 757.

In 1983, 127 new "regular causes"--primarily cases in which the Court hears oral argument and delivers an opinion--reached the docket, compared to 119 in 1982 and the ten-year average of 112. New civil mandamus matters increased from 132 in 1982 to 142 in 1983 (up 8 percent).

The Supreme Court disposed of 71 percent of the regular causes docketed during 1983 or carried over from 1982, compared to 70 percent in 1982. Seventy-nine percent of the applications for writs of error were disposed of during the year, 2 percent less than during the previous year.

The Court delivered 125 deciding opinions in 1983, 17 percent more than the 107 opinions in 1982. A total of 173 opinions were written (including Rule 483 per curiam opinions), an average of 19 per justice. The Supreme Court disposed of 705 applications for writs of error from decisions of the Courts of Appeals, compared to 777 in 1982, for an average of 78 per justice. Seventeen percent of the 705 applications were granted. Of the granted writs, the Courts of Appeals were reversed in 71 percent of the cases, for an effective reversal rate on applications for writs of error from the Courts of Appeals of 13 percent.

Fifty-two regular causes were pending at the end of 1983--1 more than at the end of 1982, and 12 cases more than the ten-year average. The number of applications for writs of error remaining on the docket at the end of 1983 was 182--2 percent less than the 184 at the end of 1982, but 17 percent more than the ten-year average of 156.

* "Regular Causes" are reported in a separate category because they are the cases which pass through most, if not all, of the steps of the regular appellate decision-making process. Regular causes are cases in which oral argument is heard in open court (if not waived) and in which the court's decision is usually reported in a written opinion. Most are reviewed in conference by the Supreme Court, before oral argument and decision, upon application for writ of error, with three or more of the justices voting that the decision of the Court of Appeals was erroneous and that the writ therefore should be granted. A similar procedure is followed regarding petitions for original mandamus and habeas corpus, which become "Regular Causes" only after review and vote in conference. Causes other than Regular Causes include such actions as the Court's rejection in conference of an application for writ of error or application to file a petition for original mandamus or habeas corpus. This category is obviously larger than that of regular causes.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS

Analysis of 1983 Activity

The Court of Criminal Appeals is the highest state court for criminal appeals and is composed of a Presiding Judge and eight judges. Additionally, pursuant to article 1811e, V.T.C.S., special commissioners may be designated to serve as needed to aid and assist the Court.

Until September 1, 1981, the Court of Criminal Appeals received all criminal cases appealed from the district and county-level trial courts of the State. On that date, a constitutional amendment together with implementing legislation became effective which conferred on the 14 Courts of Appeals intermediate appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases except those in which the death penalty was assessed. Appeal of these death penalty cases remains direct to the Court of Criminal Appeals. Decisions by the Courts of Appeals in criminal cases may be appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals by petition for discretionary review by the State or defendant, or the Court may review a decision on its own motion.

Jurisdiction Change Reduces Filings

Conferring of criminal jurisdiction on the Courts of Appeals greatly reduced the number of new cases filed in the Court of Criminal Appeals in 1982 and 1983. There was a total of 414 cases added to the Court's docket during calendar year 1982, 200 of those cases being added by petition for discretionary review granted by the Court. In 1983, a total of 492 new cases were filed, 319 of them by petition for discretionary review. The 492 new cases represents an increase of 19 percent from the preceding year. In addition to those cases which were added to the docket, the Court also reviewed 707 other petitions for discretionary review which were refused. This reduction in the number of cases presented to the Court of Criminal Appeals has enabled the Court to make a substantial reduction of the backlog of pending cases. There were 2,471 cases pending with the Court at the beginning of 1982. This

TOTAL WORKLOAD, COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS*
1983

*Includes direct appeals and cases where petition for discretionary review is granted number had been reduced to 1,400 pending cases at the end of that year, and to 555 at the end of 1983. This represented a decrease in the backlog of 44 percent during 1982 and 60 percent more during 1983.

The number of applications for writs of habeas corpus increased in 1983. There was a total of 2,008 applications filed during 1983 as compared with 1,745 applications filed in the preceding year, for an increase of 15 percent.

Rate of Dispositions Rises

The impact of conferring of criminal jurisdiction on the Courts of Appeals can be further demonstrated by comparing the disposition rate for new cases and cases carried over from preceding years for 1982 with the rate for previous years. The Court of Criminal Appeals was able to dispose of 70 percent of the cases filed during the year or carried over from 1982. The disposition rate for 1982 was 52 percent and the rate for 1981 was 35 percent of the cases filed or carried over from preceding years.

Of the total dispositions, 58 percent in 1983 and 54 percent in 1982 were disposed of by per curiam opinion, as compared with 76 percent in 1981 and 83 percent in 1980. There were 1,404 opinions (including dissents and concurrences) written in 1983 as compared with 1,397 opinions written in 1982. Forty-seven percent of the opinions written in 1983 were authored opinions, compared to 43 percent of opinions written in 1982.

In the 10 years from 1973 to 1982, judges and commissioners serving on the Court of Criminal Appeals wrote a total of 22,669 opinions--an average of 2,267 per year. The 2,878 opinions written by the Court in 1978 was the largest number in any single year.

Petitions for discretionary review were received by the Court from 104 counties. Harris and Dallas Counties accounted for almost 50 percent of the petitions filed, with 285 petitions being received from Harris County and 282 petitions originating from Dallas County.

During 1983 there were 54 death penalty cases reaching the Court under the automatic review provisions of article 37.071, Code of Criminal Procedure. In 1982 there were 46 death penalty cases reaching the Court on appeal.

COURTS OF APPEALS

Analysis of 1983 Activity

There are 14 Courts of Appeals in Texas which, since September 1, 1981, have heard intermediate appeals in both civil and criminal cases. Five of the courts have three justices each. The others range in size up to the Dallas Court, with 13 justices.

There were a total of 79 justices on the Courts of Appeals at the beginning of 1983. One more was added to the Fort Worth Court on September 1, for a total at the end of the year of 80 justices statewide.

Growth of Criminal Backlog Controlled

The growth of the backlog of criminal appeals in Texas, which reached crisis proportions from 1974 to 1980, was brought under control by the Courts of Appeals during 1983.

From 1974 to 1980--when original criminal appeals were heard exclusively by the single Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin--the backlog had grown annually by an average of 45 percent per year.

During 1982, the first full year in which the intermediate Courts of Appeals had jurisdiction over criminal cases, the pending criminal case backlog in those courts increased by only 7.1 percent and in 1983, pending criminal cases decreased 21.2 percent.

The Courts of Appeals had 4,423 criminal cases and 2,393 civil cases pending as of January 1, 1983. On December 31, 3,518 criminal cases and 2,574 civil cases were pending.

These 14 courts disposed of 8,038 total cases during 1983, an average of 102 dispositions (64 criminal and 38 civil) per justice. A total of 7,314 cases were added to the dockets of the Courts of Appeals during the year, which included 4,132 criminal cases and 3,182 civil cases. This was a decrease of 4 percent from the 7,611 total cases added in 1982. However, while criminal cases added decreased 12 percent from the 4,691 filed in 1982, civil cases increased 9 percent over the 2,920 filed in 1982.

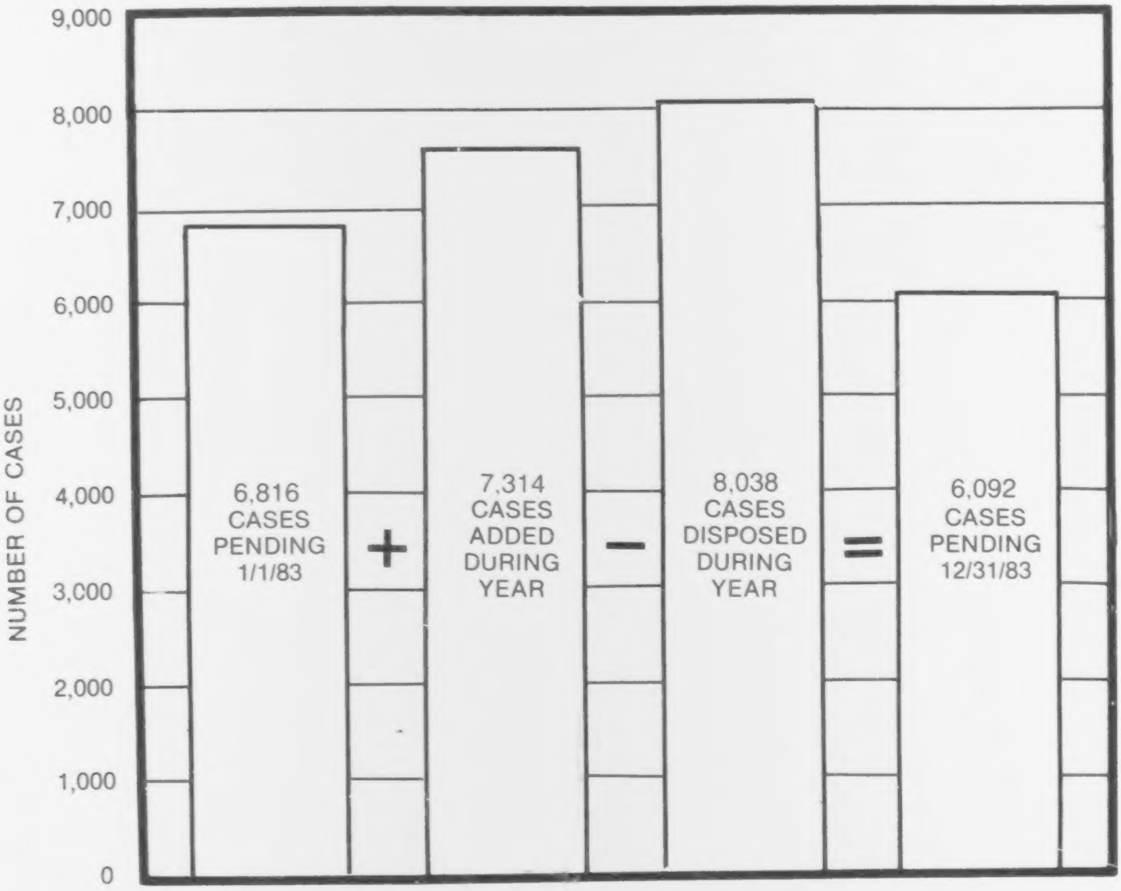

Figure 7.

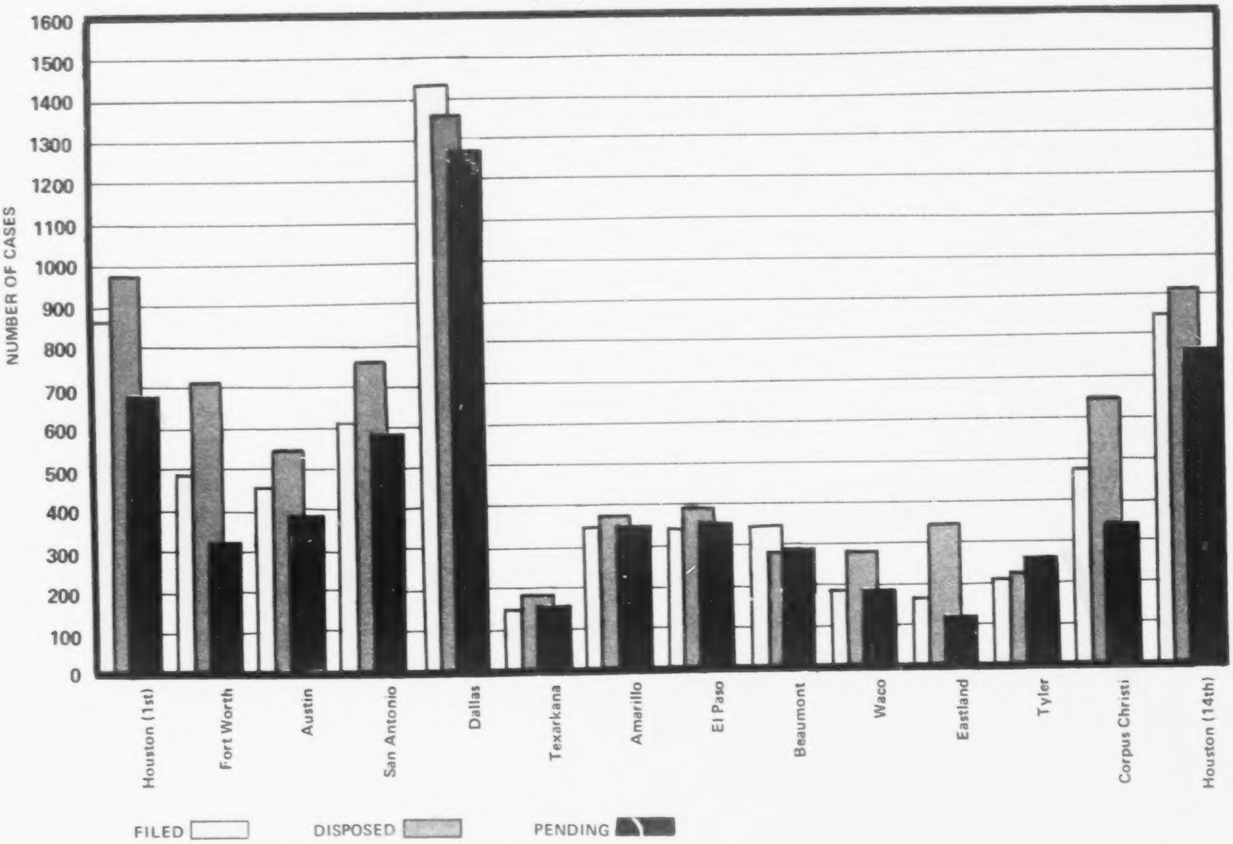
COURTS OF APPEALS

Cases filed, disposed and pending 1983



One measure of the success of the Courts of Appeals in handling criminal cases is their record in disposing of cases transferred to them by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

When the Courts of Appeals first began exercising criminal jurisdiction on September 1, 1981--as the result of a constitutional amendment--the Court of Criminal Appeals transferred 1,637 pending criminal cases from its docket to the various Courts of Appeals.

Of the 1,637 cases transferred, all but 3 had been disposed of by the end of 1983.

Two of the Courts of Appeals are located in Houston. One each is located in Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Texarkana, Amarillo, El Paso, Beaumont, Waco, Eastland, Tyler and Corpus Christi. Each court has jurisdiction over a supreme judicial district.

Filings Averaged 88 Per Justice

Considering civil and criminal cases together, the Ninth Court in Beaumont had the highest average number of new cases filed per justice (115) during 1983. The other courts ranged down to 51 cases per justice filed in the Sixth Court in Texarkana. State average filings were 88 per justice.

The Eleventh Court of Appeals in Eastland disposed of the largest number of cases per justice (115) during 1983. State average dispositions were 100.5 per justice.

The largest number of pending cases per justice at the end of the year (99) was in the Ninth Court of Appeals in Beaumont. The lowest number was in the Eleventh Court in Eastland (40 per justice). The State average for pending cases was 76 per justice.

Approximately 24 percent of all cases filed in a Court of Appeals in Texas in 1983 were filed in one of the two Courts located in Houston. Approximately 21 percent of all cases filed in the State were filed in the Dallas Court.

In 1983, justices of the Courts of Appeals wrote 7,613 opinions, 17 percent more than the 6,509 in 1982. The Courts of Appeals reversed, at least in part, the decision of the trial court in 12.5 percent of the cases disposed of, compared to 13.3 percent in 1982.

While the 14 Courts of Appeals operate to a large extent as autonomous courts in specific geographic areas, some equalization of the dockets occurs by transfer of cases among the courts by order of the Supreme Court, pursuant to Article 1738, V.T.C.S. The Supreme Court transferred 152 civil cases and 623 criminal cases in 1983, compared with 59 civil cases and 61 criminal cases transferred in 1982.

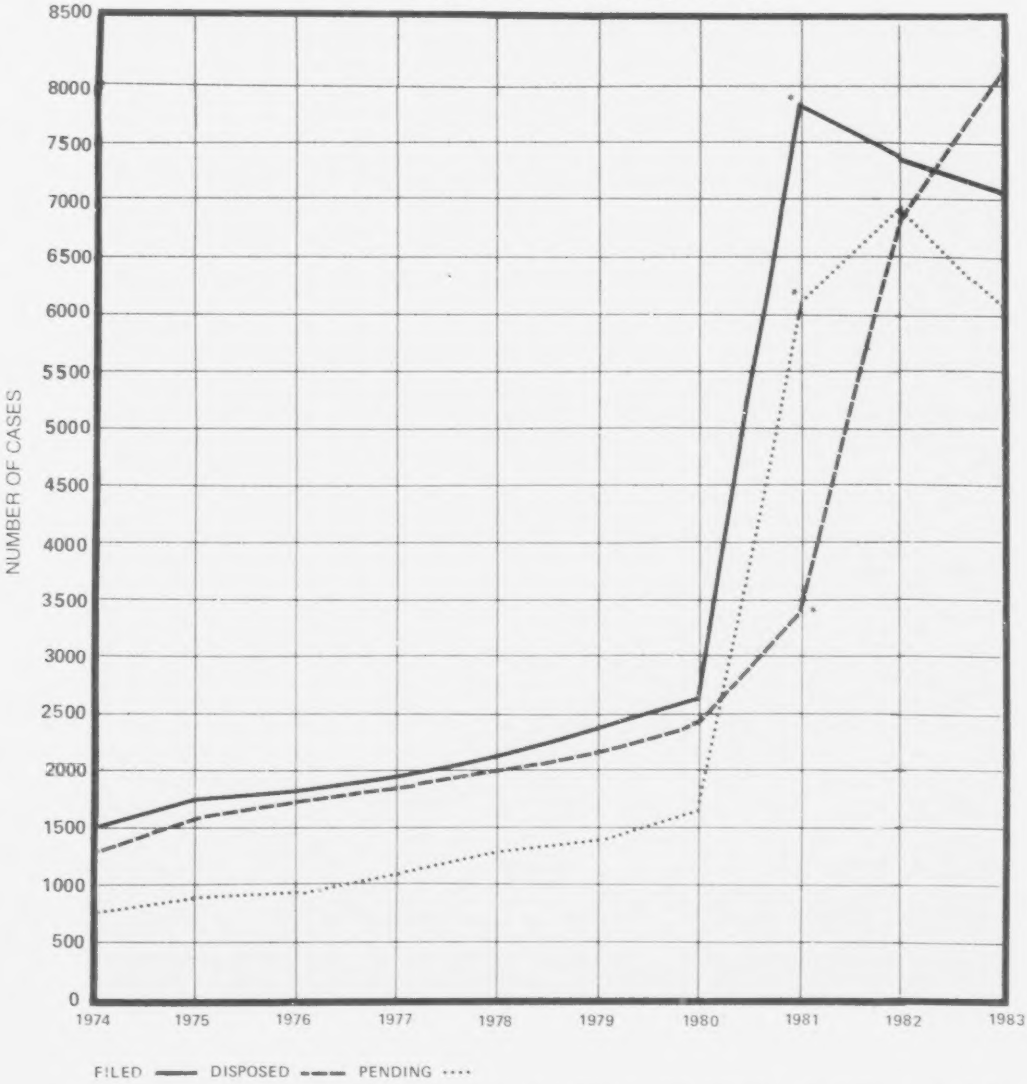
Disposition of Criminal Cases

Of the 3,518 criminal cases pending in the Courts of Appeals at the end of 1983, 46 percent had been on the docket less than 6 months, 36 percent from 6 to 12 months, and 18 percent more than 12 months.

The average lapse of time between filing of a criminal case in a Court of Appeals and its disposition ranged from 4.4 months in the Waco Court to 13.7 months in the Tyler Court. The average lapse of time for cases statewide was 10.1 months.

A case is "submitted" when the court hears oral argument or when it is referred to the justices for formal consideration if no oral argument is heard. The average lapse of time between submission of a criminal appeal and its disposition ranged from 0.4 of a month in the Waco

Figure 8.
COURTS OF APPEALS
Cases filed, disposed and pending 1974-1983



* Caseloads increased sharply in 1981 when Courts of Appeals acquired criminal jurisdiction. Before 1981, caseloads included only civil cases; since 1981, both civil had criminal are included. Of the 6,092 cases pending on 12-31-83, 2,574 were civil and 3,518 were criminal.

Court to 2.9 months in the El Paso Court. The average lapse of time for cases statewide was 1.3 months.

New civil cases filed in all of the Courts of Appeals during 1983 increased 7.9 percent over 1982. More new civil cases were filed in 1983 than in 1982 in all but the Austin, Amarillo, Beaumont, Waco, and Eastland Courts. Of the courts with increased civil filings, the Thirteenth Court in Corpus Christi experienced the largest percentage increase--23.9 percent (49 cases). The Dallas Court continued to receive more new civil filings than any other court--568 compared to the average of 221 per court. The two courts in Houston, each of which has jurisdiction of the same geographical area, received a total of 697 civil cases each, 81 cases (13 percent) more than in 1982.

At the end of 1983, 2,574 civil cases were pending on the dockets of the Courts of Appeals, 5.8 percent more than the 2,432 pending on December 31, 1982. Of those civil cases pending December 31, 1983, 45.6 percent had been on the docket less than 6 months, 33.7 percent from 6 to 12 months, and 20.6 percent more than 12 months.

The average lapse of time between the filing of a civil case in a Court of Appeals and its disposition ranged from 4.2 months in the Waco Court to 13.8 months in the Amarillo Court. The average lapse of time for cases statewide was 9.1 months.

The average lapse of time from the submission of a civil case to the court and its disposition ranged from 0.5 of a month in the Waco Court to 5.1 months in the San Antonio Court. The average lapse of time for cases statewide was 2.5 months.

DISTRICT COURTS

Analysis of 1983 Activity

During 1983, fourteen new district courts were created as a result of legislative action. On January 1, 1983, there was a total of 347 district-level courts. That number increased to 361 by the end of the year with the addition of new courts. (Three additional courts were created, effective January 1, 1984.) For statistical purposes, 352 has been used as an average number of district courts for 1983.

The district courts experienced a 0.7 percent increase in new cases filed in 1983--474,119, up from 470,561 in 1982. New criminal cases filed increased 2.5 percent over 1982 while civil cases increased 0.5 percent and juvenile cases decreased 6.9 percent.

Civil cases accounted for 74.2 percent of the new cases filed in 1983. The largest segment of the civil cases filed (38.8 percent) were for divorce. Of the civil cases filed, personal injury cases (including worker's compensation) comprised 11.7 percent, as did tax cases, while disputes over debts comprised about 14.0 percent.

Juvenile cases (Title 3 of the Texas Family Code) accounted for 2.3 percent of the total cases filed in district courts.

Criminal cases accounted for 23.5 percent of the total new cases filed in 1983. Of the criminal cases, 21.7 percent involved a charge of theft (including auto theft), 18.4 percent burglary, 5.3 percent robbery, 1.9 percent homicide (including capital murder), 3.4 percent rape (including sexual abuse of a child and, after September 1, 1983, sexual assualt and aggravated sexual assault), 7.6 percent felony DWI and 11.6 percent drug offenses (including marijuana). Almost nine percent of the new filings were misdemeanor cases. About 15 percent of the criminal cases filed in the district court were by information, the remainder were by indictment.

Urban Filings Increase

The number of all categories of cases filed in 1983 in the ten Texas counties with populations over 210,000 increased 3.1 percent, while in all other counties, the number of cases filed decreaed 1.8 percent. These ten large-population counties (Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, Travis, Hidalgo, Nueces, Jefferson, and Lubbock) had approximately 54 percent of the State's 1980 population and 58 percent of the total cases filed during 1983.

Total case filings increased in the Counties of Harris (14 percent), El Paso (5 percent), Travis (2 percent), Nueces (9 percent), and Lubbock (34 percent). Decreases in cases filed were recorded in the Counties of Dallas (4 percent), Bexar (4 percent), Tarrant (8 percent), Hidalgo (4 percent), and Jefferson (17 percent).

Filings in criminal cases decreased 1.2 percent in the ten urban counties but increaed 6.5 percent in all other counties. Criminal filings increased 33.3 percent in Hidalgo and 11.0 percent in Travis while dropping 19.0 percent in Bexar County. Civil case filings increased in four of the urban counties--as high as a 47.9 percent increase in Lubbock County. Civil filings in Harris County increased by 17.8 percent. Overall, civil filings rose 4.3 percent in the urban counties and decreased by the same percentage in the rest of the State.

Percent of Dispositions Increases Slightly

In 1983, the district courts of the State disposed of 43.3 percent of the total cases on their dockets (added in 1983 or carried over from 1982)--compared to 42.9 percent in 1982. The district courts in the ten counties with populations over 210,000 disposed of 45.7 percent. In all other counties of the State, 40.5 percent were disposed of. In all counties, 52.9 percent of the criminal cases and 41.1 percent of the civil cases on the dockets were disposed of during the year.

In the ten urban counties the disposition rate of criminal cases averaged 54.7 percent, ranging from 64.4 percent in Hidalgo County to 34.0 percent in El Paso County. The disposition rate of criminal cases in counties under 210,000 averaged 51.0 percent of those on the docket.

Comparable figures for civil cases show an average disposition rate of 43.7 percent in the ten urban counties and 37.9 percent in the rest of the State. The range in the ten urban counties was from 64.9 percent in Dallas County to 32.6 percent in Lubbock County.

An average of 1,255 cases per judge were disposed of in 1983, an increase of 2.7 percent over the disposition rate in 1982 of 1,222 cases per judge.

Of all civil cases, 40.0 percent were disposed of by non-jury trials. (More than 70 percent of these non-jury trials were in divorce cases.)

Eighteen percent were dismissed for want of prosecution, and 15.1 percent were dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

The defendant entered a plea of guilty in 57.9 percent of the criminal cases disposed. Including these pleas, the defendant was convicted in 61.6 percent of the cases and acquitted in slightly over one percent. Thirty-six percent of the criminal cases were disposed of by dismissal. Of those cases dismissed, 16.7 percent were because of insufficient evidence and 24.4 percent because the defendant was convicted in another case. In the cases in which the defendant pleaded not guilty and which were disposed of by jury verdicts, the defendant was found guilty in 82.1 percent of the cases and was acquitted in 17.9 percent. In trials before the judge alone on not-guilty pleas, convictions resulted in 74.0 percent of the cases and acquittals in 26.0 percent. The defendant was convicted of a lesser offense than that originally filed in 14.7 percent of the cases resulting in convictions.

Among the criminal cases, the highest rate for disposition by conviction was the category of felony driving while intoxicated (DWI) with 83.2 percent of the dispositions being by conviction. The highest rate of disposition by dismissal was of misdemeanors (47.9 percent). Conversely, the lowest rate of dismissal was for felony DWI--15.1 percent were dismissed.

Death Sentences Imposed

Thirty-three death sentences (compared to 32 in 1982) and 343 life sentences were assessed in the district courts during 1983. A total of 26,473 commitments to the Texas Department of Corrections were reported (including persons incarcerated after revocations of probations). Another 6,595 persons were incarcerated in local jails, 29,423 were placed on probation (excluding the 10,251 persons placed on deferred adjudication), and $13,948,900 in fines were assessed. Of the criminal cases disposed by the district courts of Texas in 1983, 33.3 percent were disposed of in a period of less than two months from the time of indictment or information, 14.0 percent took two to three months, 11.1 percent took three to four months, and 37.7 percent took over four months. The remaining 3.8 percent of the dispositions were after completion of deferred adjudication.

Of the juvenile cases handled by the district courts, a finding of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (CINS) was entered in 66.8 percent of the cases disposed. The juvenile was found not to have engaged in the proscribed conduct in 1.6 percent.

District courts handled 0.4 percent less divorce actions in 1983 than in 1982. In 1983, 137,962 divorce cases were disposed of--31.2 percent of all cases handled by district courts. Some 22.4 percent were dismissed.

Tax cases tend to stay on the docket for long periods of time compared to other categories of cases. Only 18.7 percent of the tax cases filed in 1983 or carried over from 1982 were disposed of by the district courts in 1983. Of those dispositions, 69.5 percent were dismissed by the plaintiff or for want of prosecution. Almost 34 percent of the personal injury-type cases ended in agreed judgments, and 21.1 percent were dismissed by the plaintiff.

Of the 327,594 civil dispositions during 1983, the courts disposed of 27.4 percent in under three months, 20.6 percent in three to six months, 17.7 percent in six to 12 months, 11.3 percent in 12 to 18 months, and 23.0 percent took over 18 months.

The total number of cases pending in the district courts at the end of 1983--588,952--was 5.8 percent higher than the 556,787 pending at the end of 1982. Criminal cases pending increased by 8.7 percent while civil cases pending at the end of 1983 were up 5.3 percent.

Another way to view the volume of cases pending on December 31, 1983, is to assume that no new cases are filed in 1984 and that all the present district judges dispose of cases at the same rate as during 1983. At that rate, it would take an average of 486.4 days per court to dispose of the cases pending at the end of 1983.

Explanation of Case Categories

CRIMINAL DOCKET

A criminal case is defined as one defendant per indictment or information. For example, if an indictment names more than one defendant, there is more than one case; three defendants named in one indictment equals three cases. If the same defendant receives more than one indictment, even if for the same criminal episode, there is more than one case: the same person named in four indictments equals four cases.

Finally, if an indictment contains more than one count (Article 21.24, C.C.P.) only one case per person named in the indictment is reported. The case is reported under the classification for the most serious offense alleged.

The case-type categories, with abbreviation used in parentheses, are:

1. CAPITAL MURDER (CAP. MURD). Any offense under Penal Code Section 19.03 (Capital Murder).

2. MURDER OR VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER (MURD OR VOL. MANS). Any offense under Penal Code Sections 19.02 (Murder) or 19.04 (Voluntary Manslaughter).

3. ASSAULT OR ATTEMPTED MURDER (ASLT OR ATT. MURD). Any felony offense under Penal Code Section 22.01 (Assault); any offense under Section 22.02 (Aggravated Assault), 22.03 (Deadly Assault on a Peace Officer), or 22.04 (Injury to a Child); or any offense of attempt (as defined in Section 15.01) to commit: Murder (19.03) or Voluntary Manslaughter (19.04).

4. RAPE. Any offense under Penal Code Sections 21.02 (Rape) or 21.03 (Aggravated Rape). After Sept. 1, 1983, any offense under Penal Code Sections 22.011 (Sexual Assault) or 22.021 (Aggravated Sexual Assault) where the victim is an adult (17 years or older).

5. SEXUAL ABUSE OR RAPE OF A CHILD. Any offense under Penal Code Sections 21.09 (Rape of a Child), 21.10 (Sexual Abuse of a Child) or 21.11 (Indecency with a Child), or, if the victim is younger than 17 years, any offense under Sections 21.04 (Sexual Abuse) or 21.05 (Aggravated Sexual Abuse). After Sept. 1, 1983, any offense under Penal Code Sections 22.011 (Sexual Assault) or 22.021 (Aggravated Sexual Assault) where the victim is a child (younger than 17 years), and any offense under 21.11 (Indecency with a Child).

17. OTHER FELONY. Any felony offense not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories.

18. ALL MISDEMEANORS (ALL MISD). Any offense classified as a misdemeanor.

CIVIL DOCKET

A civil case, as opposed to a criminal case, is not dependent on the number of persons involved in a suit. Each separate suit normally commenced by the filing of the plaintiffs original petition, defines an individual civil case.

The case-type categories are:

1. AUTOMOBILE PERSONAL INJURY/DAMAGES (AUTO PERS. INJURY). All cases for damages associated in any way with a motor vehicle (automobile, truck, motorcycle, etc.), with or without accompanying personal injury. Examples include personal injury, property damage, and wrongful death cases.

2. OTHER PERSONAL INJURY/DAMAGES (OTHER PERS. INJURY). Cases for personal injury or damages not arising out of an event involving a motor vehicle. Examples include "slip-and-fall" cases.

3. WORKERS' COMPENSATION (WORKERS COMP). Appeals from awards of compensation for personal injury by the Texas Industrial Accident Board. (Art. 8307, V.T.C.S.)

4. TAX. Suits brought by governmental taxing entities for the collection of taxes.

5. DIVORCE. Suits brought by a party to a marriage to dissolve that marriage pursuant to Family Code Chapter 3. (Annulments are not reported here, but under Other Civil.)

6. ACCOUNTS, CONTRACTS, NOTES (ACCT CONT NOTE). Suits based on enforcing the terms of a certain and express agreement, usually for the purpose of recovering a specific sum of money.

7. RECIPROCALS (RECIP). Actions involving child support in which the case has been received from another court outside the county or state. Includes Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act (U.R.E.S.A.) cases.

8. CONDEMNATION (CONDM). Suits by a unit of government or a corporation with the power of eminent domain for the taking of private land for public use.

9. NON-ADVERSARY (NON ADVER.). This is a narrowly defined category, to include only:
- Adoptions
- Changes of Name
- Occupational Drivers License
- Termination of Parental Rights
- Dependent and Neglected Child Cases
- Removal of Disability of Minority
- Removal of Disability of Minority for Marriage
- Voluntary Legitimation (Section 13.01 Texas Family Code)

10. OTHER CIVIL. All civil cases not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the previous categories are included in this category.

JUVENILE DOCKET

Juvenile cases are based upon petitions for adjudication of a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) as governed by Title 3 of the Texas Family Code.

OTHER PROCEEDINGS

The proceedings under these categories may stem from criminal, civil or juvenile cases.

COUNTY-LEVEL COURTS

Analysis of 1983 Activity

The county clerk in each of the 254 counties of Texas is supplied forms by the Judicial Council for reporting the judicial activity in the county-level courts ("constitutional" county courts, county courts at law, probate courts, etc.). For 1983, the clerks in all 254 counties reported activity all twelve months, for a 100 percent reporting rate.

Looking at numbers of cases, criminal cases constituted 75.5 percent (460,337) of the 609,923 new cases filed or appealed from lower courts. Civil cases accounted for 13.2 percent (80,552), and probate represented 10.9 percent (66,778). New juvenile cases filed were less than one-half percent of the total.

DWI Cases Top Criminal Dockets

Concerning the criminal cases only, 32.4 percent of those added to the dockets of the county-level courts were for driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs (DWI/DUID), 17.1 percent were for theft, 6.6 percent for violations of drug laws, 15.3 percent for traffic offenses, 1.8 percent for simple assault, and 26.8 percent were for other criminal offenses.

Again concerning criminal cases only, 22.4 percent of the cases added to the county-level court dockets came by way of appeal from justice of the peace or municipal courts rather than being filed originally in the county-level courts.

Debt Suits Dominate Civil Dockets

Of the civil cases added to the dockets during 1982, 40 percent were classified as suits on debt, 8.7 percent concerned personal injury/damage suits, 3.2 percent were divorce suits, 3.3 percent were tax suits, and 44.8 percent were other civil cases.

During the twelve-month reporting period, the county-level courts of the State disposed of 50 percent of the 1,038,791 total criminal, civil, and juvenile cases on their dockets (added during 1983 or carried over from 1982). No statistics on the disposition of probate cases are recorded. The disposition rate was highest for juvenile cases (69 percent). Fifty-one percent of the criminal cases on the docket were disposed of as were 43 percent of the civil cases. Within the category of criminal cases on the docket, 55.8 percent of the drug charges, 50.7 percent of the DWI/DUID charges, 39.1 percent of theft charges, 49.9 percent of assault charges, 58.4 percent of traffic cases, and 59 of other criminal cases were disposed.

Looking at all cases (except probate), the county-level courts disposed of 515,950 cases, while 546,978 cases were added to their dockets.

Of the criminal cases disposed of in county-level courts, 45.1 percent of the dispositions followed a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and 47.3 percent were dismissed. Trials were held in less than one percent of the criminal cases; 1,776 were before the judge alone, and 2,818 were before a jury.

The highest percentage of dismissals occurred in the traffic cases--74.1 percent of the dispositions were by dismissal. Dismissals accounted for 33.0 percent of the DWI/DUID, 52.1 percent of the theft, 41.1 percent of drug, and 57.1 percent of the assault case dispositions, respectively.

The methods of disposition of civil cases parallel those for criminal cases except that a higher percentage (11.8) of cases involved a trial. Of the civil cases tried, 867 were before a jury and 9,940 were before the judge alone. Default or agreed judgments accounted for 40.6 percent of civil dispositions, and 43.9 percent of civil cases were dismissed.

Total Pending Caseloads Rise

Total cases pending on the dockets of the county-level courts increased 6.3 percent from the first to the end of the year--491,731 on January 1 and 522,841 on December 31. (This does not include probate cases.)

Civil cases remaining on the dockets on December 31 represented a 7.6 percent decrease in pending civil cases but pending criminal cases increased by 11.5 percent during the year.

Explanation of Case Categories

CRIMINAL DOCKET

A criminal case is defined as one defendant per information. For example, if an information names more than one defendant, there is more than one case: three defendants named in one information equals three cases. If the same defendant receives more than one information, even if for the same criminal episode, there is more than one case: the same person named in four informations equals four cases.

Finally, if an information contains more than one county (Article 21.24, C.C.P.) only one case per person named in the information is reported. The case is reported under the classification for the most serious offense alleged.

The case-type categories are:

1. D.W.I. OR D.U.I.D. An offense under Article 6701L-1, V.T.C.S. (Driving While Intoxicated) or Article 6701d, Section 50, V.T.C.S. (Driving Under the Influence of Drugs).

2. THEFT OR WORTHLESS CHECKS. An offense under Penal Code Section 31.03 (Theft) or Section 31.04 (Theft of Service) or any offense of theft or theft of service if the defendant obtained property or secured performance of service by issuing or passing a check or similar sight order for the payment of money, when the issuer did not have sufficient funds in or on deposit with the bank or other drawer for the payment in full of the check or order as well as all other checks or orders than outstanding. (Section 31.06, P.C. is also often cited in the complaint.) If the complaint is originally brought in the county court (Class A or B Misdemeanor), it is reported on Line 2. If the case is an appeal from a Justice of the Peace or Municipal Court (Class C Misdemeanor), it is reported on Line 3. Also including in Line 3 is an appeal of a case brought under Penal Code Section 32.41--Issuance of Bad Check.

3. DRUG OFFENSES. An offense under the Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, V.T.C.S.) or the Dangerous Drug act (Article 4476-14).

4. ASSAULT. An offense under Penal Code 22.01 (Assault) or 22.05 (Reckless Conduct).

5. TRAFFIC. Violations of the provisions of Article 6701d, V.T.C.S. (Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways) and related statutes, except D.W.I. (Article 6701Z-1) and D.U.I.D. (Article 6701d, Section 50).

6. OTHER CRIMINAL. An offense not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories.

CIVIL DOCKET

A civil case, as opposed to a criminal case, is not dependent on the number of persons involved in a suit. Each separate suit normally commenced by the filing of the plaintiff's original petition, defines an individual civil case.

The case-type categories are:

1. AUTOMOBILE PERSONAL INJURY DAMAGES. All cases for damages associated in any way with a motor vehicle (automobile, truck, motorcycle, etc), with or without accompanying personal injury. Examples include personal injury, property damage, and wrongful death cases. Any type of driver's license suspension case, however, is not to be included in this category.

2. OTHER PERSONAL INJURY/DAMAGES. Cases for personal injury or damages not arising out of an event involving a motor vehicle. Examples include "slip-and-fall" cases.

3. TAX. Suits brought by governmental taxing entities for the collection of taxes.

4. SUITS OF DEBT. Suits based on enforcing the terms of a certain and express agreement, usually for the purpose of recovering a specific sum of money.

5. DIVORCE. (Applicable only for some County Courts at Law.) Suits brought by a party to a marriage to dissolve that marriage pursuant to Family Code Chapter 3. (Annulments are not reported here, but under Other Civil.)

6. OTHER CIVIL. All civil cases not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories are included in this category.

JUVENILE DOCKET

Juvenile cases are based upon petitions for adjudication of a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) as governed by Title 3 of the Texas Family Code.

PROBATE DOCKET

The number of probate cases, of all types, including mental health proceedings.

JUVENILE COURT ACTIVITY

1983 Analysis

Section 51.04 of the Texas Family Code provides for the designation of a court or courts in each county as the juvenile court, to hear proceedings under Title 3 of the Family Code. The court designated must be either a district court, criminal district court, county court at law, or constitutional county court. The designation is to be made by the juvenile board in each county, or if there is none, by the judges of the above-mentioned types of courts in the county.

The total state-wide activity indicates that about 82 percent of the juvenile cases in the State were handled by district courts and 18 percent were handled by county-level courts (county courts at law or constitutional county courts).

Juvenile Filings Decrease 5.7%

Statewide, 11,978 new juvenile cases were filed during 1983--5.7 percent less than in 1982. Of these, 10,589 were for allegations of delinquent conduct and 1,389 were for allegations of conduct indicating a need for supervision. The courts disposed of 13,229 cases--4.7 percent less less than in 1982.

Findings of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) were entered in 67 percent of the dispositions. Findings of no delinquent conduct or no conduct indicating a need for supervision were entered in 1.6 percent. Thirty-one percent of dispositions were dismissed or otherwise disposed of (including change of venue transfers).

Probations Granted

Of those children found to be delinquent or in need of supervision, 83 percent were placed on formal probation. Where probations were granted, 5,914 (or 80 percent) of the children were placed in the care of their parents; 995 (or 13 percent) placed in residential care facilities; and 464 (or 6 percent) were placed with foster parents.

Children found to be delinquent were ordered confined to a Texas Youth Commission facility in 10 percent of the cases.

During 1983, 254 children were certified to be tried as adults, up from 233 children in 1882.

Other actions taken by juvenile courts during 1983 included the holding of 11,994 detention hearings and 889 hearings on motions to modify court orders and the granting of 697 motions to revoke probation.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

Analysis of 1983 Activity

The Judicial Council determined from various sources that there were 971 justices of the peace in Texas during 1983. Each justice was asked to submit a one-page monthly report to the Council on activity in that court. Statewide, the Council received 8,287 reports out of a possible 11,652 for 1983 (a 71 percent reporting rate).

Two-Thirds of Filings are Traffic Cases

In terms of numbers of cases, criminal misdemeanor cases comprised 88 percent of the cases filed in the reporting courts. Of these misdemeanor filings, 76 percent were traffic cases (more than 2/3 of all cases filed). During 1983, 1,219,086 traffic cases were reported filed. Non-traffic criminal cases comprised 24 percent of the criminal cases filed. Civil cases provided 12 percent of the new cases filed. Sixteen percent of all civil filings were small claims suits, 38 percent were forcible entry and detainer suits, and 46 percent were other civil actions.

In addition to cases filed, the reporting courts held 9,938 hearings to determine if a peace bond should be issued. In their capacity as a state magistrate, the reporting justices of the peace accepted 55,678 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 60,651 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies). There were 3,702 examining trials held (preliminary hearings of district or county court cases) and 12,269 inquests conducted. Drivers license suspension hearings totaled 56,552. Also, 3,898 search warrants were issued, and 107,454 defendants charged with county or district court offenses were given statutory warnings. Emergency mental commitment hearings were conducted on 4,346 occasions, and 10,329 matters relating to juveniles were undertaken.

Justices of the peace reported the disposition of cases in two major categories: prior to trial, including dismissals (other than those granted after completing defensive driving), and at trial. Eighty percent of all cases were disposed of before trial, 16 percent at trial, and 4 percent were dismissed after the defendant completed a defensive driving course or a period of deferred adjudication.

Looking at traffic cases only, 77 percent were disposed of prior to trial, 88 percent of those by payment of fine. Of the 9 percent that went to trial, 99 percent of the cases were tried before the judge alone and the remaining cases were tried before a jury. When traffic cases went to trial, the defendant was found guilty in 95 percent of the cases tried before the judge alone and in 80 percent of the cases tried before a jury.

Concerning non-traffic criminal cases, 60 percent were disposed of prior to trial. Sixteen percent went to trial. Of those that went to trial, 99 percent were before the judge without a jury. Guilty findings were made in 92 percent of the trials before a judge alone and in 64 percent of the jury trials.

A much higher percentage (66 percent) of all civil suits went to trial than did criminal cases (11 percent). Thirty-four percent of the civil suits were dismissed before trial. Of the cases that went to trial, 99 percent were before the judge alone and the remainder before a jury.

The courts reported the disposition of 1,687,288 cases, which is 81 percent of the 2,084,736 filed.

Appeals were filed in 17,169 cases tried in the justice of the peace courts, or about one percent of the cases disposed.

Reported Revenues Top $59 Million

Total revenue collected by the reporting courts during 1983 was $59,050,994. This revenue becomes part of the treasury of the county where the court is located except for a court cost on each case which is remitted to special funds of the State.

Finally, during 1983 justices of the peace reported holding 173,470 conferences prior to any legal action being filed in their courts. These conferences resulted in 81,470 causes (47 percent) not being filed as formal cases.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

Explanation of Case Categories

1. Traffic Misdemeanors. This category includes all class C misdemeanor violations of the traffic laws of Texas and other violations of laws relating to the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle (for example, Speeding, Stop Sign, Red Light, Inspection Sticker, Driver's License, Registration, etc.).

2. Non-Traffic Misdemeanors. This category includes all other class C misdemeanor criminal violations usually found in the Penal Code of Texas and associated state laws (for example, Public Intoxication, Disorderly Conduct, Assault, Theft under $20, Parks and Wildlife Violations, etc.)

3. Small Claims Suits. This category includes all suits for the or debt) brought to the justice of the peace as judge of the Small Claims Court in accordance with Article 2460a, V.T.C.S.

4. Forcible Entry and Detainer. This category includes all suits for forcible entry and detainer (recovery of possession of premises) brought under authority of Articles 3973-3994, V.T.C.S. and Rules 738-755, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

5. Other Civil Suits. This category includes all other suits within the civil jurisdiction of the justice of the peace court, including those for recovery of money (damages or debt) and for foreclosure of liens upon or for possession of personal property.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

For the past few years, there has been 100% reporting from the district and county clerks regarding the activity in the district and county courts of Texas. This has not yet been true, however, regarding justice of the peace and municipal courts. For this reason, it is important to note that reported totals for justice of the peace and municipal courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts.

One final caution: because of the large number of courts in Texas and the huge volume of court activity, reporting errors are bound to occur. The staff of the Texas Judicial Council and the clerks of the court work closely to keep such reporting errors to a minimum. When errors are found after publication of an Annual Report, adjustments are made in pending case figures at the beginning of the following year.
